Part 1

The Hidden Garden

The world had no sin, Adam and Eve live in a beautiful paradise with no fear or wrath. A true heaven, but one that could not last for eternity. A beautiful comet is seen in the evening sky, something new is always beautiful and in beauty is the Mystery of life!

The Garden of Eden was a paradise Island of green meadow, blue skies, vast ocean, dark mountains, white snow and cold rivers where life blossomed. As serene as it looked, this world possessed no sin too. Strange and mysterious as it seems, Adam and Eve are the only humans ever seen. Two people are in sync now with the purest of love blooming between them. For no cause or want, their love was eternal and unconditional, so perfect to be even true.

One day as Eve was taking a stroll in the garden of Eden, she finds a tree that she has never seen before. The fruit of this tree immediately engaged her curiosity. Eve was tempted to know, what is this fruit and how it would taste. She in haste approached the tree and tried to reach the fruit but suddenly a snake wakes up, bites the fruit, plucks it and gives it to Eve. Bewildered and curious, she takes the fruit and with no hesitation takes a juicy bite, the sweetness such as she has never tasted before. She is hit pretty hard and her world starts to move, taking her to a brighter world that she has never seen before. She could now hear "The song of the Eva" in that complete silence. Deep and deeper she goes into a place within herself to find the rest of her all over the place. Now, she could feel the perfect harmony of nature in its totality, soaked in bliss she lets herself flow with the true nature of herself. After a long trip, she wakes up and wondered as to what just happened to her and with whom she was interacting within herself. She quickly grabs the bitten apple and runs to Adam, he takes a deep look at the bitten apple and has a bite too, tears of ecstasy roll down his cheeks and then he sees a big gate in front of him. He quickly realizes what a made-up world this is and if he is too? Adam shouts at the top of his voice for the first time.

The Final Call

A helicopter lands on a remote base camp in-between a snow mountain. Someone is carrying an important piece of agreement to the president, A sign off is requested. This place looks like a Doomsday shelter and all the soldiers are busy packing, moving things and securing life stocks. All domestic animals are taken much care. Everyone knows that a decade has passed since the war has broken and a couple of nukes have been shared between the countries. The cities of the world are beyond recognition, torn into pieces, people are helpless and in guilt but the war has no road to peace. Death is on a roller cost ride, a quarter of the people are gone by now, leaving behind the rest of the world in burning hell. The president of this country is a foreign origin, a man of Knowledge, a mystic and a wise man, yet he could not do anything to stop this war. Humans have pinned themselves to a route of no return. What must happen will happen. Looks like the president knows what's the next move to end this war and what will be the risk in taking a decision like that. Yet he signs the document and hands it over as he knows that there is no other way out. He turns and looks at the world map, he recollects the happening of this world and the evolution of humankind in the way he understands them.

With the tears of regret and with the fear of death to this world, He turns his sight to a Dart Board, holds his Rudraksh and utters the word "Shiva".

Part 3

The Mahabharat

Arjuna is reluctant to participate in this war. He knows nobody is going to win anything from this war apart from death, but Lord Krishna reminds him of his duty and shows him the path of Dharma. He explains to Arjuna the underlying principles of this universe and how everything is built one on top of another to make this cosmic web of life come true on earth. Arjuna, awakened by the consciousness of Krishna and the immortal nature of creation, totally surrenders to life and to what life can offer to oneself. Arjun bows down to Lord Krishna and a tear drop hits Krishna's feet, Arjuna gets up to find himself shooting an arrow at Karna and then Karna is finally relieved of his breath in his mother's lap. only then did Arjuna learn his relationship with Karna. The unfair act of life has left Arjuna choiceless to kill his own blood just because he is on the other side.

Mahabharat, the epic war was fought between Pandavas and Kauravas, the old Gods and what they had created out of themselves.

Part 4

The Noah's Ark

In the remote corner of the world, Noah is seen on top of a mountain overseeing the biggest project to save life on earth. Noah was informed that a great war is going to tear apart the world and all the living on this planet are in grave danger. The level of disaster would be so huge that it would tear apart the land and pour sea waters into it, this would upset the entire bio system and would rain for days to flood the entire Earth. Shocked and worried about the approaching disaster, Noah picks up a mega project to build a super-size ship to house as much as life for an after world. If they would survive the great flood after the hard efforts, is a painful question that lingers in Noah's mind. But what options does anyone have then to try and survive, a blind shot to the future. Noah looks at his sepal and sheds a drop of tear.

A Smokey comet is seen in the sky!

Part 5

The Great Flood

The war of the past world has ended with a huge comet strike! The land has broken, Earth's axis has tilted and the water from the sea has flood the lands with huge tsunamis across the globe. The world of the Gods has fallen, the great work, the great history, the great minds of gods are all down the drain. Cities of great heritage are under water now, all the ice on the earth has melted and it rains for days on no end with the earth falling to darkness. Earth is filled with endless ocean and few landmasses are barely seen, which were the tip of few mountains. Slowly earth started to settle down and after years has finally became calm and silent, in a true meditative state. Looks like all the life on earth has gone and an empty cold world is all that is left behind.

Earth takes a gasp of breath, then a white pigeon is seen with a twig of life in it!

Part 6

The Primitive Human

After years of chaos and aftermath, Earth has finally stabilized on its axis. The seabed has been exposed to become the new deserts. New landscape, new mountains, new continents and new islands have emerged. Slowly the new climate, new seasons, new rivers are carving the face of our planet. Earth is once again blossoming into new life. Earth of the past and present are worlds apart now. Many species that survived have adapted and evolved far beyond recognition to the new environment around them. A new hairy species has gone upright walking in two legs, making peculiar sounds and living in tight packs. Though not in numbers, we could find this species in all the continents with some minor changes in appearance and character as to the adaptation to the environment around them but a distinct character of using stone tools for hunting sets them apart as a much more evolved species than other animals. They were distinctly smarter in learning and mimicking the sounds of other creatures from the wild and have even adapted to copy the acts of the other animals around. This genetically altered pre-human species walking the new world slowly turned to a new distinct species on earth. At this point there does not exist any social structure among them. They are just another group of wild animals looking for survival who clearly had no guidance from their makers of the past world. They have somehow thrived, struggled and raised themselves from the wild environment around them. Death was in every corner, fear engulfed them every now and then, these are the days of only wildness all around. This Pre-Human ape species were not much populated then, barely around a million or little more, hunting and fighting for survival and flourishing across the world. They had apparently learnt their ways of survival from the wildness around them. They enacted the behavior of other animals in their leisure as an act of sharing knowledge. The first form of social structure towards humanity is taking its baby steps. This nomadic pre-human wild-species seen around the world subconsciously migrated long distance through generations to finally reach to the top of The Himalayas.

Today's Humans are the product of this 7 pre-human ape species intentionally left to evolve in the 7 continents around the world.

Part 7

The Adi Yogi

A great Yogi comes out of a small Stone Temple and looks at the new morning in this new world. What could be a better place to refuge from the madness of the wild world around than the peaks of the tallest mountains on earth, The Himalayas. This yogi is living in solitude and looks very different from the others of the human species at that time. He is well built, calm, composed, wise and all powerful. A mentally evolved species with skills of survival in the wild and the intelligence to use things around efficiently to build a lifestyle around himself. He looks like he knows something more than other ape species at his time. He has mastered the art of growing his own food and domesticating animals from the wild. He wears leopard skin as a piece of cloth to protect himself from the cold and to chase all animals around with its smell. He knows that clothes are not just for protection but they are the first sense of shame that brings human to an understanding that body is not all that it is. He holds a "Trident", a powerful tool from the knowledge of melting rocks. He knows that he holds a tool not just for self-defense but a tool that would sort human hunger which eventually would lead to a life beyond this earth. He also carries a "Hand drum" that denotes his love to the rhythm of life and his wisdom of creation.

He is well groomed and full of aesthetics, and he looks like the only hope in this lost world.

One night when Adi yogi was walking back to his Stone Temple he gets spotted by a primitive Human, no primitive wild man has ever seen a stone house or a yogi like Human, holding a fire torch in one hand and a Bull on the other hand, He is simply majestic with his capabilities. Primitive humans have never seen a human who could control another animal and walk fearless in the wild. Primitive humans are now curious of this yogi's personality. They sneak and follow the yogi back to his Temple and found lot of snakes around his place, they are dumbstruck at the lifestyle and the grace that he is living in. Primitive humans are taken by his charm but dared not to approach him. They followed him through night and day, silently trying to understand the magic that he is. One fine evening during an amazing colorful sunset the Yogi simply pulls out a Tiger skin and sits on it for mediation and The Bull takes his place in the front. The yogi knows all that's happening behind him, he then puts up a yagna and resides the Aum mantra for hours together. unknow to what is happening several primitive men automatically gather around him to copy and reside the same mantra. The chorus of the mantra starts to light up and the yogi starts the drumming, a sense of subconsciousness is woken up and a trans state is established. Looking at the intensity of what's happening, many of them got frightened and ran away, only 7 were lost into the madness and stayed through. This is the time in history where human mind splits into two that could now interact with each other and a verbal way of thinking takes birth out of this.

The science behind language is an art of making a human mind, it is an art of associating, remembering, reasoning, and recreating. A mind of language is a powerful tool of transmitting once thoughts and ideas to another. As animals we could barely understand each other but with language, humans mind is an endless possibility.

Now a tool to connect the minds of humans has been established, networking a species together as one Soul of Humanity.

Part 8

The Seven Sages

This yogi in Himalayas was the first connect from the Super consciousness to humanity in this new world. He is also the First Impart from the old Gods to the new world, His wisdom was no match to primitive humans who could not understand the reasoning behind his act. Nobody knew who raised him and where he learnt all that he knows hence, Adi yogi from the Unknown. He looked magical to all. Curious enough to know the ways of his learnings, many visited him often and watched him thorough but only 7 of them could approach him closely and stayed with him to become his first impart. It looked like a clear spell has befallen on them to be transformed beyond their physical capabilities. One-night Adi yogi and his 7 disciples were participating in a Yagna - a ritual around the fire with Music and Dance, they were experiencing psychedelics and they were dripping in overwhelmed happiness, something that they have never experienced before. Their Nadis and Chakras opened to lift them up to a state of ecstasy. The Human species now has tasted something beyond the physical reality. Now they had the connection but not the total. Still, they could look through their past and well calibrate their future, hence acted well in their present. They were put through intense sadhanas, a method of transformation, to given up all the ways of their earthly body leanings. They were trained in 7 subjects of Human lifestyle: Yoga, Ayurveda, Samsara, Rajya, Mantra, Yantra and Tantras. Once transformed they started to learn the ways of a new life, how to make fire in different ways, how to use natural materials around to make tools, structures, and wheels. They domesticate animals, grew paddy, stored grains for future use and cooked them when needed. They slowly learnt the art of communicating verbally with little words that lays a strong foundation in the development of complex language. Now the wild men have turned wise enough to transform their position in the eco-system. These 7 sages are all set to light up the world with spirituality and an idea of Humanity. The 7 sages take a final blessing from Adi yogi and left in all directions to reach the remotest of 7 continents around the world. They eventually consecrate a Lingam in their lifetime and merged themselves into it, thus guiding Humanity for generations to come.

From then we see many Sages, Buddhas, Messengers, and Gurus emerge amongst us to redirect the course of humanity.

Part 9

The First Temple City for the World

A Sage is seen in a deep meditative state for days inside the Stone Temple with a Nandi sitting outside waiting patiently for his master. 7 doors to reach the Mythical Man inside this temple. People are pouring into the temple with their family to worship this Sage and take his Darshan. Gold and other precious metals are offered to him as people are overwhelmed of their success beyond their capabilities. People are in peace now from the wildlife that they were terrified off and they strongly believed in the grace of his worship. People are well fed and have a very settled lifestyle due to the impart of agriculture and communal dwelling into their life. Many people from far tribal community come to this temple to trade and worship here. They have set up an entire Market outside the temple complex exchanging ration, tools, and knowledge. Gold predominantly is the expensive trading Currency that the temple collected as an exchange instrument. Other metal coins were given in exchange to be taken back and people made tools and ornaments out of them. Jewelry was a method to keep expensive metals safely with oneself.

The king of the people (Raja) is one amongst the 7 disciples of the great Sage, he is paying his visit to the temple.

The Raja is the protector of the Dharma, a specialist in a Subject called Raj-Tantra, an art of giving up oneself for his people's wellbeing. The Sage in the temple would hardly talk and if he does, he speaks only to his 7 disciples. The Great Sage is the one who groomed his 7 disciples in the 7 subjects of making a strong culture.

Yoga for Human Transformation and Evolution

Ayurveda for food and medicine

Samsara for family system and duties

Rajya for governance and politics

Mantra for articulation and verbal communication

Yantra for tools and technology

Tantra for drawing, writing and calculations

The understanding of these 7 subjects comes from the learnings of how nature works and how cosmic structure are grouped in the celestial realm. The 7 Disciples who runs the Temple would take care of many small villages around. They have established a grouping system to identifying humans based on their interest and intellect, inclining them to the 7 subjects of life. They had classified humans into 7 categories.

The Guru, The King, The Defender, The Thinker, The Worker, The Labor, and the Dependents (children and elders) forming the backbone of a social structure for making a community.

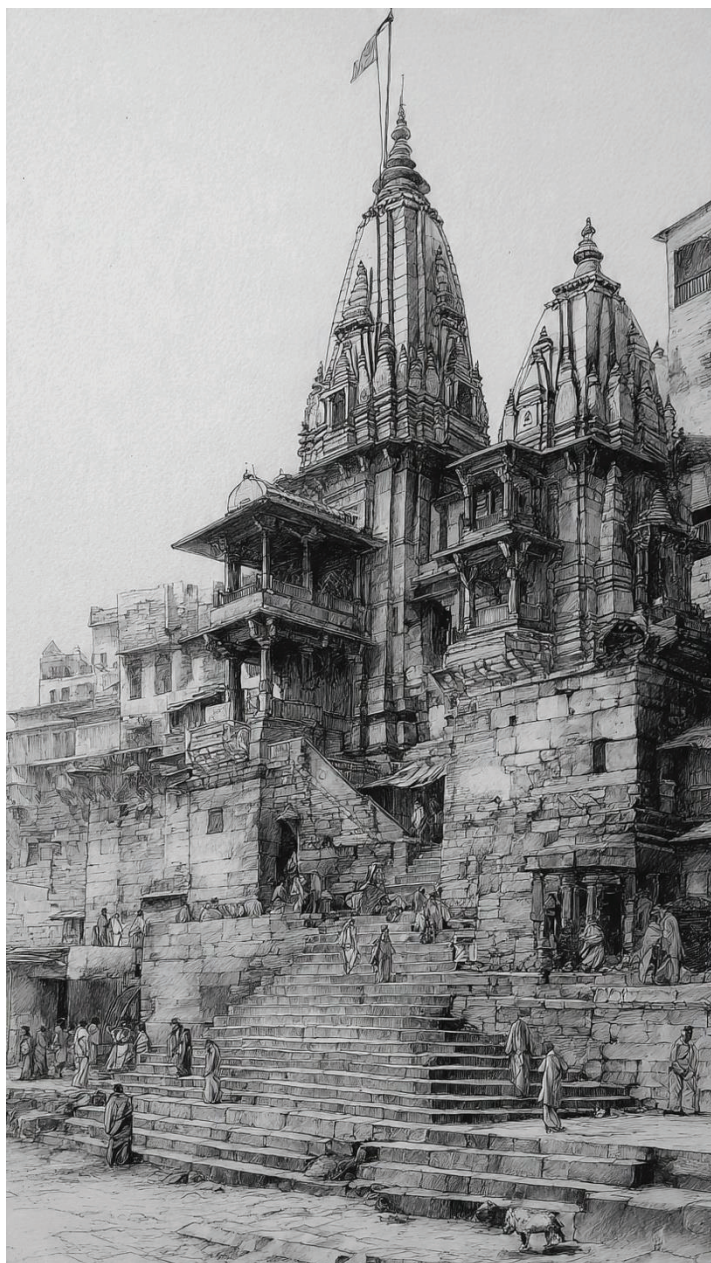

Children and elders are the responsibility of the Temple and lived around the Gurukul. There was no family succession rather a tradition of Guru and disciple on all subjects to specialize in. The Society flourished through its systematic organization based on the number 7. They developed a 7-day calendar system that reflected the 7-fold nature of existence, 7-seasons, and 7-continents on Earth. This 7-fold framework extended throughout their understanding of the world. the 7 stages of creation mirrored the 7 major chakras in the human body, which corresponded to the 7 planets, they categorized light into 7 colours and sound into 7 musical notes. Dance was structured into 7 fundamental steps, while the sensory world was organized into 7 flavours and 7 scents. Their knowledge system encompassed 7 senses, 7 dimensions, 7 disciplines, and 7 subjects all of which were identified and developed during this era.

The 7 dimensions of reality now have been pinned into the culture of human life. Now this system of lifestyle and culture could propel humanity for generations across the world. The 7 new civilizations of people have emerged from the same cradle of Humanity - Indian, Chinese, Russian, Arabian, African, European and American.

Humanity is a 7 headed snake trying to comprehend the existence in their own ways.

The King has reached the temple as the Sage has woken up from his deep meditative state. This time the Sage has informed that he is set to leave for the good.

A huge ceremony is taking place where the Sage goes around the Temple complex and consecrates a Lingam in his place. Huge Yagnas are ordered and all the 7 disciples of the 7 subjects are participating in this yagna by the bank of the holy Ganga River. The first Mega Temple city on our planet is in its making, humans through generations will flock like birds that migrate to this pilgrimage site, for one to understand his roots from where the human civilization emerged and to where it is going to, this is also an information upgrade site to share knowledge from the remote corners of the world. From here starts the ritual of Kumbh-mela, Kumbh means people mela means union. A ritual where Sages, Sadhus, Gurus and common people who migrate to other part of the world to build new civilizations will reunite once in 12 years to signify the birth of Humanity.

Now the great Sage in the temple is heading back to The Himalayas with his Bull for the good, to a place where he belongs.

Adi-Kailash the Abode of Shiva!

Part 10

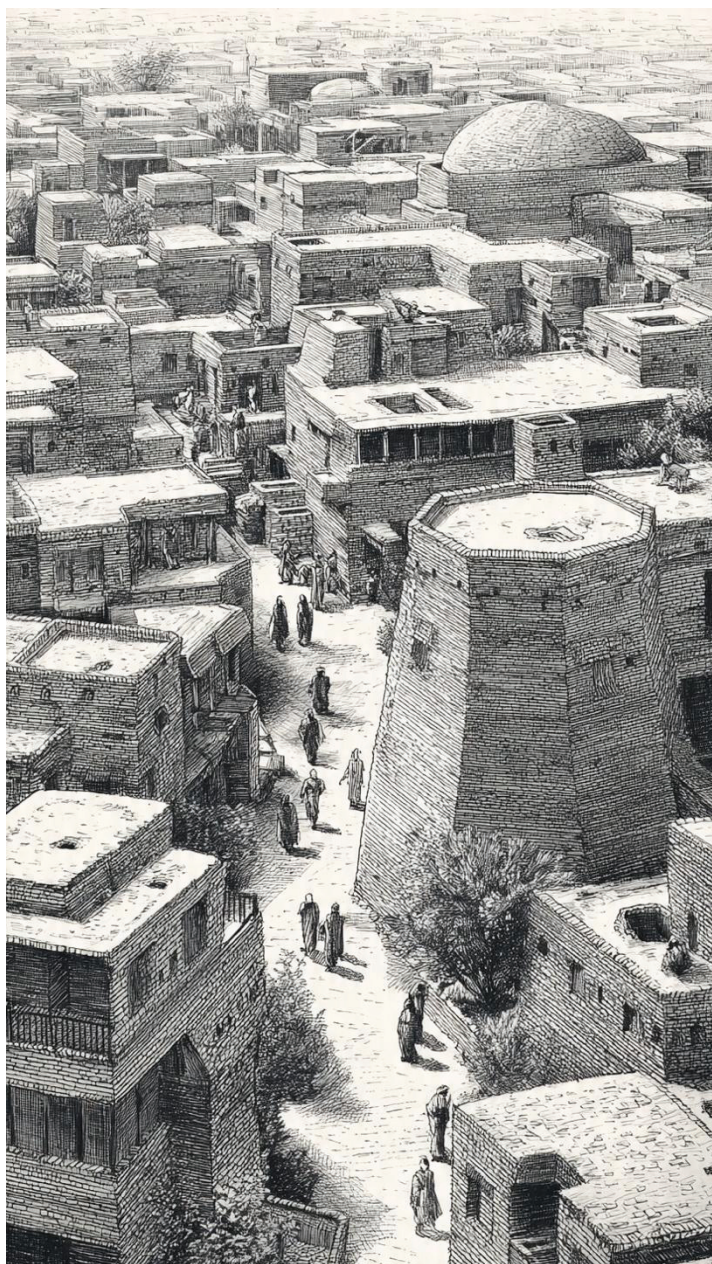

The Mongolians

A Sense of Consciousness is silently sprouting across the world amongst primitive humans as verbal communication is slowly catching up. A hunter gatherer community in Central Asia has developed strong believe in After-life, Souls and Uni-Soul. In the world of wild humans, this tribe makes killing animals for food as a sacred ritual, thus becoming judicious in hunting, as they started to understand the value of a life and its fine balance. They performed rituals around fire as they believed Fire to represent the Sun God that gives light and thus life. They also worshiped Moon as a mythical object that drives evolution on earth. They used animal skin to make drums and played it in their rituals to create trance states, they also used animal skin to make beautiful cloths, they made ornaments with bones and made hats from bird feathers. They strongly believed in healing of their Souls, in their rituals they often found someone getting into trans state and bringing message from the over or under world. They were called the 'Dream catcher' of the tribe. They had a nomadic lifestyle moving from one place to another finding new land, new food, new climate, and new mates. They had a fair idea of Astronomy and predicted eclipse and comets that bring good or bad news to them, Astrology takes birth here. They had developed a strong bond with plants and animals that woke up a sense of life around them, they start to worship trees as a sign of knowledge. They also raise birds and animals as they can perceive somethings beyond, that we can't sense. They believed that falcon and eagle had the power to oversee threats, they also raised wolfs as a companion for hunting and guarding them from the wild. Besides they also found Wolves as a key element of the tribal bonding. They learnt that humans could be strong only in tight packs like wolves. They also captured wild horses and tamed them to travel long distances. They slowly started to learn the minds of other creatures by being close to them. They had used plants and herbs as medicines to cure disease and wounds. They also had a person as an expertise in the subject called 'The Healer'. Women and men were equal halves of the tribal community. They communicated with few words but had kept honesty as the key aspect of communication. From this small tribal culture slowly evolves Shamanism and Tengrism.

Similar tribal communities across the world arose independently in small packets of nomadic hunter gatherer groups. We eventually termed this small pack of native indigenous people across the world as Indians who had similar pattern in their lifestyle.

Part 11

The Indus Civilization

Humanity and human lifestyle are slowly in the raise. Many new settlements of people are seen by the river sides of the South Asian peninsula region. A commune is slowly arising to become a major foundation to a great civilization of the future. A Guru with his 7 disciples is building an amazing citadel by the bank of the river Indus. An engineering marvel of using Bricks and Mortar to build permeant dwelling for a well settled lifestyle. They had an amazing idea of building drain system that could harvest rainwater for drinking and built river water reservoirs for irrigation. They were the first to cultivate paddy and cotton. Cotton was grown for clothing as they were the first to develop the skill of weaving cloths. They also developed a sense of cleanliness and aesthetic lifestyle. They had built many public bath and private individual houses for families. They also worked with metal tools, ropes, Clay, and wood to make household items and also merchandize them for trade, they had come up with a unique coding system of using seals for trade and economics. Measurements, scaling, and time management were seen in day-to-day activities. Intellectual games and artwork were encouraged to help kids learn and develop. They had not only designed an advance dwelling system of those days but had also designed a blueprint to build people of value and culture.

An advance idea of a communal living has been set up with the understanding of the nature of early humans and the geography that they were located in. The Guru and his disciples had dedicated their entire life to setup this citadel and the dwelling houses around, where human wellbeing was considered and shaping the human personality was on the prime focus. Agriculture and domestication improved and drove the commune. Food, Lifestyle, and aesthetics showed a good presence in people's life in the commune. A system of Marriage and family was also introduced at this time, the commune encouraged people to wear bangles as a reminder to control themselves from the wild instincts of their animal nature. Mothers were the core of the family as she nurtured and educated the young once, there was a clear distinction in the duties of men and women in taking care of home and the commune. Both men and women had their equal roles and importance in the society. They believed strongly in their mother land and the rule of the commune. There was no concept of God or ideal worship rather a method of spirituality that could lead oneself to self-realization, that gave birth to the culture of Yoga and Meditation

Part 12

The Xia Dynasty

A Buddha with his 8 disciples is seen in the regions of East Asia, He is an old Grand Master from a dynasty that protected their clan from all the dangerous of the wild and other tribes. He has set up an entire village with his knowledge, power, and Wisdom. The Buddha runs a house of eight wise men alone, who in turn Runs schooling for Kids. They also govern the development and maintenance of their Villages. They thought their people the art of making all essentials from the nature around them. They learnt to build houses with bamboo and lifestyle equipment with Wood. People developed the skill of making table, chair, cart, pipes, fencing, vesicles, eating sticks, bow, arrow and many more essentials tool for household, farming and defense. The Village was an aesthetics of Pottery and carpentry. Their houses were made for small families living together in a close community. Their village gave importance to neat and tidiness. People are all living together governed by wise principles of these wise men. The community has good defense that comes from the practice of Tai chi an ancient martial art developed by the knowledge of the great warriors who defended their people. The culture and lifestyle of this community was set up in such a way that it can hold good for millions of people for thousands of years to come.

This community further gave birth to the concept of Taoism, a balanced lifestyle of defense and mediation that would help humans be protected from the wild nature of life and people around them.

Part 13

The Mayans

A huge revelation is taking place in the other side of the world, Patala-Loka. A terrifying way to imparting vegetarian diet across all the wild tribes is at play. An army of a huge clan is set to capture primitive humans who have turned cannibals in their diet. The last ice age had turned them from veg to nonveg diet and eventually cannibalism has grown across many tribes as they hunt down each other for meat. To turn Wild humans around a meg project has been set to grow the food forest of the world, The Amazon Forest. Plants and animals are bought from different parts of the world to house the biggest man-made forest on the planet, to provide vegetarian food to all. Vaners the monkey people of the forest are doing the runner's job. They are the one who discover new place on the planet and brought varieties of Plants and animals to fill the cradle of the great Amazon River basin. They not only brought in plants and animals, but they also brought wild humans across the world for sacrifice, as they believed that they were not the desired product of human evolution. Narabhali a Human Sacrifice Festival is being celebrated, a ritual to sanitize human souls as they return-back to life. Ways of killing people has been invented and many games of killing the masses is the sport of this festival. They had a good knowledge of Sports, Art, Mathematics, Astronomy, and Astrology. Hence this festival falls on a lunar eclipse day.

As the crowd is cheering an Agori on a buffalo is seen heading to the Coba with his 9 disciples and with him is a man tied to his rope for sacrifice to the Mayan God of death Yama Dharma Raya. The Agori beheads the man and his head roles down the stairs of the Pyramid, and the earth goes dark at the eclipse.

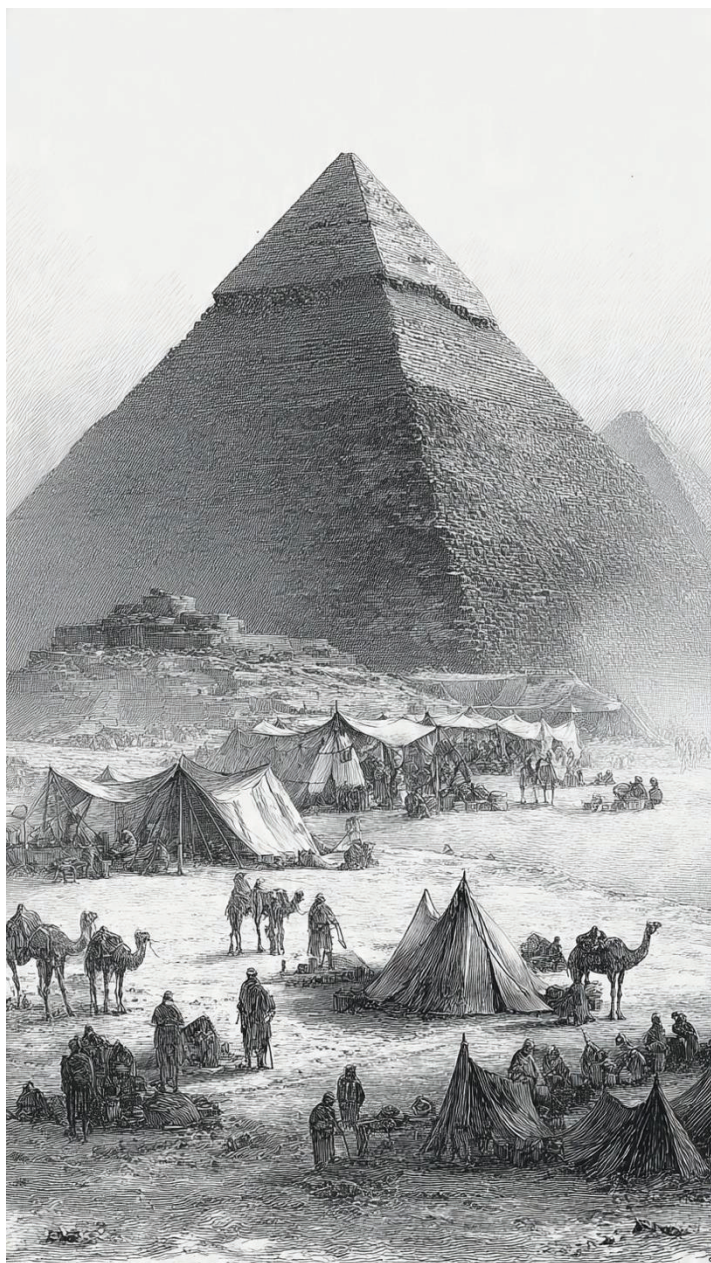

Part 14

The Mesopotamians

In Middle East Asia, a sage has reached a hilltop after a long journey from the East. He is looking at a lost civilization of the Sumerians who had made their way from the great flood and established a great city but now they are only few tribes who are living in small packets in the ruins of the great city. They are constantly in fight with each other for territory due to scarcity of food and water. They are the legendary people from the great Noah's Ark who survived the great flood. All the tribes seen around are ultimately from the same family, but often fought amongst each other. The people of all tribes are mal nourished, and disease was spreading now and then. The sage goes to the tribe where they are severely affected by a recent pandemic. He helps them with some treatment methods of using herbs as medicine and the tribe's lives are saved. The sage becomes the leader of the tribe and grooms 10 disciples, teaching them the new methods of agriculture, irrigation, medicine, cooking, clothing, mathematics, and trade. Soon all the tribes networked to become the Babylon's of the Middle East Asia. They eventually developed good language skills and also the art of translating oral language to Clay tablets which gave rise to a complex written language and Mathematics.

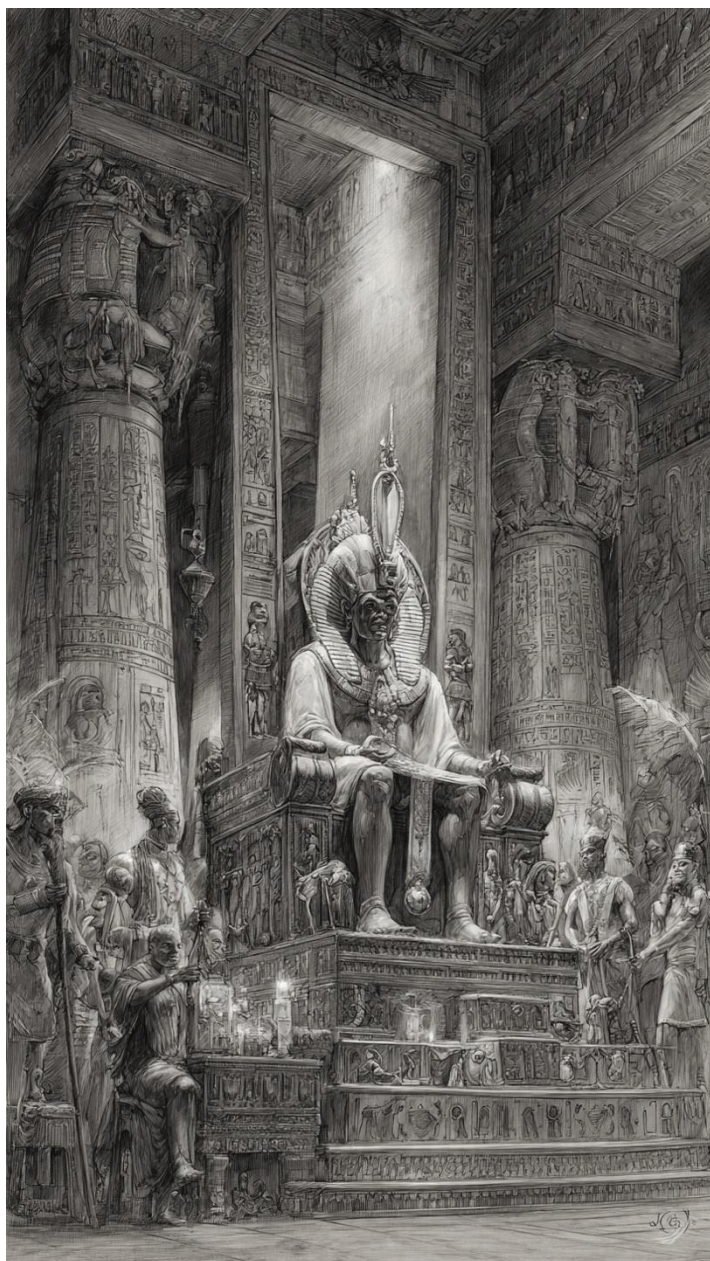

The city has now grown in numbers and people had enough time to develop in Art, Literature, Music and pottery which added aesthetics to their life. The Great minds of the Babylon started to dream of a mega project of housing the masses thus arose a political ground. The elders demanded respect and the elder son was giving the preference of ruling the people that slowly led to Monarchy and then two distinct class of people emerged, the rich and the poor. The few rich and powerful started to control the lives of many poor families that led to the establishment of slavery eventually.

The Egyptians

A sage in his death bed reviles a Secret location that's in the continent of Africa to his 11 disciples. A place where they can start a new civilization that would unlock some mythical secrets, this is a monumental place built by the Devatas of the lost world. A huge number of people set foot with the 11 disciples to migrate to the City of Gods as advised by their Sage. After several days they reach the sand dune deserts of Giza to find the Great Pyramid that the sage had mentioned in his death bed. Though they were mesmerized by the magnitude of construction and architecture of the great pyramid they had no idea as to what is it and what to do with it. They knew at the first sight that this is not an easy place for human habitation, they had to bring water from far off distance, grow food in the harsh environment and strive in a hot location but they also knew that there is lot to learn from this majestic construction which looked like a magical jack pot to them. They settled down at the foot of the pyramid to set forth a new civilization. They did the unthinkable, they brought a river to their habitation. They grew wheat by the banks and raised cattle to set up a resource that could nurture generations to come by. After many centuries this place became the crown of culture, architecture, knowledge, wisdom, and rituals.

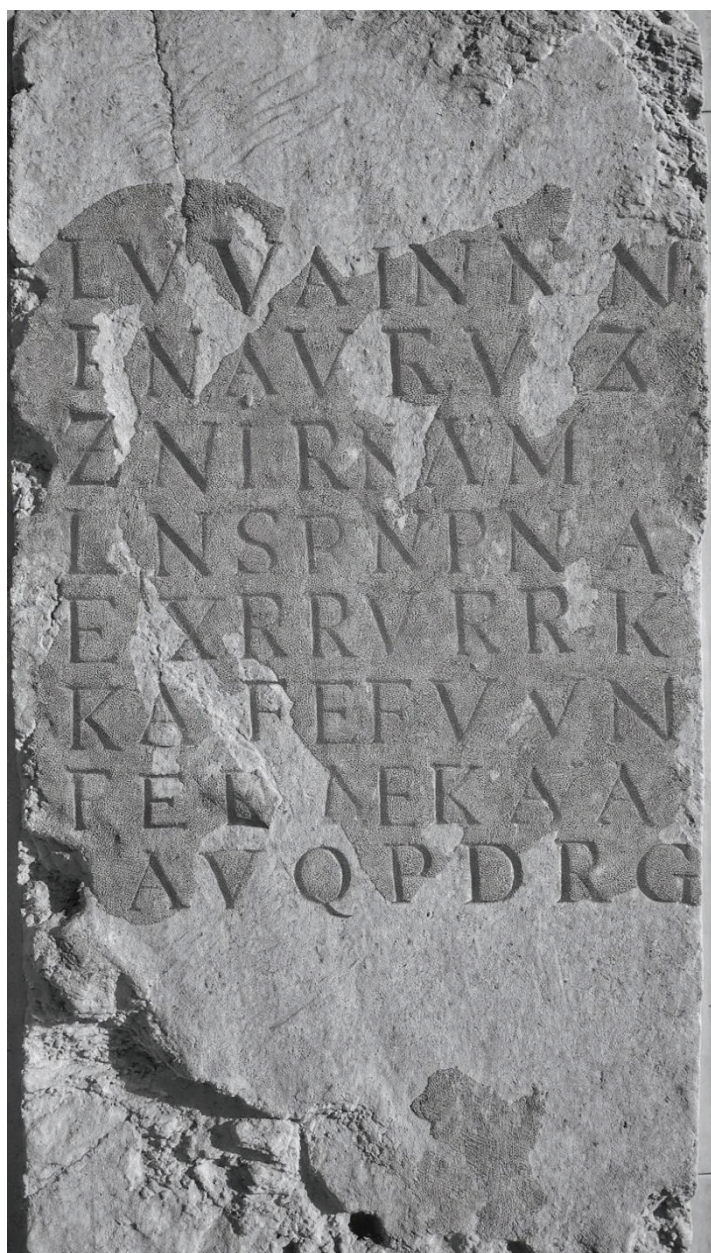

Stories of kings have taken the centerstage as to how they built this kingdom and how their kids succeeded the throne. They have learnt to map the skies by unlocking the secret of the cosmos by deciphering the pyramid as a tool of learning, they learnt seasons, made calendars, learnt healing, and also strongly believed in life after death too. They tried hard to decipher the full potent of the pyramid but failed. Finally, one king decided to open the pyramid layer by layer to see what's inside, they used the stones removed to build their city, but luck struck them bad, Invasions, climate changes and a pandemic brought the great civilization to an end eventually.

The Etruscans

A sage with his 12 disciples, in many ships, with lot of slaves arrives at the coast of West Asia. They were on a quest for a type of Stone that would change the face of our earth forever, the Metal Ore! They had mastered the art of metallurgy. They found the right place with abundant supply of minerals and set up a huge mining operation where they extracted variety of metals like copper, bronze, and iron. At first, they used this metal for making weapons and armors, eventually trading it to the other parts of the world. In exchange they got other resources from other civilizations to build a grand and modern city of their time. Eventually this civilization started to grow richer and powerful, more and more people joined them from other part of the world to adapt to a new lifestyle of luxury. Women had special status in the society and set high demands from the men. The success of their civilization was not only because of their metallurgy and trade but also due to major deployment in language, communication, and philosophy. They had developed a simple written language that becomes the foundation for Roman letters that would dominate the word of languages in the future. Paganism emerged from this culture and further transformed to Roman civilization.

This civilization got more streamlined in Agriculture, domestication, politics, education, metallurgy, trade, transport, defense, entertainment that paved way to our modern-day City lifestyle.

Part 17

WW3 Climax

Many generations have passed, and Human have now established thousands of cities and hundreds of nations by now. Invention of electricity and industrial revolution has super charged human capabilities. Beautiful infrastructure, amazing food, variety of cultures and many ideas of Life and God has shaped the world that we are living in today. As transport and communication developed people's mind and work collaborated across the world. Electricity, Computers, Internet, and Artificial intelligence are on the fast lane of Advancement. Power is the major thirst for growth in this world and human population has maxed out beyond the earths carrying capacity of our species. Population of the world are rushing to small cities hoping for better lifestyle. Humans are migrating like never before. The world has totally become a factory and marketplace for human needs and lifestyle. Global warming, food crisis, political instability and corruption has become the new norm. Human imagination has drawn more imaginary lines to divide themselves. The World is at the peak of its madness. We do not have sufficient food and clean water to sustain humanity. The word is now split in two for what so reasons, but the fight is real between the Right and the Left.

Somewhere within ourselves we know that to have a comfortable and sustainable life, we can't be so many in numbers and so many preluded grouping system. Each of this groups believes that they have the right to own the entire planet and others don't.

Humans have turned blind in realizing what they think and what they do, WW3 is a true fight between the two minds of the same body of humanity who is ignorant of fighting each other for the same coz!

The Gods have failed again and the world is turning into a war-torn junkyard. All the efforts of human evolution have no meaning. Nuclear Bombs are shared into beautiful cities in this fight, infrastructures are collapsed, people are killing each other and many of the cities are beyond recognition slowly turning into graveyards, all human efforts in vain, all human activities have come to stand still but the war has no hope to peace. Looks like a decision must be made and a mad king must be seated for the mad world that's gone rouge. It's a do or die situation for humanity, and with no choice the left now must surrender to the right, but surrender is not even the last option of a free mind!

The President's signed document has arrived. A dart strikes the board and A tear drop hits the ground. A huge Comet Strike rumbles the face of Mother Earth once again!

Deep Silence.....

Part 18

Two Modern Day Wise Men in Conversation

One Explains About Life and God

Life is not a new thing on earth, though not we have found anything like a biotic life elsewhere, we can still conclude that our entire Universe is a living life that moves in cycles, transforms, reproduces, and evolves. Life before the birth of our universe was in an absolute state of rest and then a Sound breaks the Singularity called Shoonya which splits into two major forces creating a third dimension

A Creative force denoted as Brahma

Time a relative experience denoted as Vishnu

and a Destructive force denoted as Shiva

Brahma the hyper energy plasma state would later cooldown to become the physical state of this universe. The single consciousness Shoonya which got fragmented into these three forces would slowly find its way back to reunite, riding the laws of nature and thus conserving energy. In that process is the making of every physical matter in this creation including Us, Aham Brahmasmi!

Life further regroups into 7 nonphysical masculine forces (Shiva) that invades the 7 physical feminine forces (Shakti) to make the duality in nature, these forces would bind 7 times inward and outward simultaneously to form the 7 dimensions interacting with one and other in the passage of Time. This brings the micro and the macro dimensions together in a grand unification. Higgs, gluon, Quarks, nuclear, electric, magnetic and gravitational fields (Shiva) associating with its respective quantum particles (Shakti) makes the building blocks of our universe. The 7 chakras that can uncoil in our energy body could connect us to the deeper dimensions of this duality. The 7 upper dimensions of life we perceive as I am a type of species who is biotic on a Planet around a Star in a Galaxy goes to nothing. Similarly, we can find the 7 lower dimensions of life as, I made of organs, made of cells, made of molecules, made of atoms, made of energy comes from nothing. Each of this packs can be grouped as a Boothas (Souls/Sprits) which is a Subtle life by itself together driving the elements within it subconsciously. We human species together make the Soul of the humanity, just like how all the cell in our body makes the life that we are. Life is very immediate after the birth of our universe. It just took only 1 Billion years after the formation of our solar system for biotic life to emerge on earth and this universe is more than 14 Billion years at the least. All the elements to make biotic life in the universe were existing during our infant universe, that gives rise to a certain possibility that complex life forces could be pre-existing from the very beginning of this universe. The resemblance of life is shadowed into every making in this universe and its language is written into every atom and every fold of creation.

The universe is repetitive and evolving (Vidhi and Madhi). When any merger happens a new life is born, like our Universe is born from the union of two Super Massive parent Galaxies that now we can see beyond the horizon in our JWST, Our Milky Way Galaxy is born out of the recent merger of two small galaxies, Our Sun who is the master of our solar system is born out of a young massive star and a heavy neutron star that merged and exploded into a supernova, that gave raise to heavier materials in our periodic table, which later became the building block of our solar system and eventually us. Our Earth is also made from the Collision of two planets in the making of our solar system, where the core of one became the Magical Moon in our sky that reflects suns light in cycles and portions to propel the evolution of life on earth. The position of Earth is perfect in the placement to Sun and Moon such that the Sunlight is reflected in portions to form a gradual full moon and a gradual no Moon in cycles. We understand that all life on earth is worked by the light of our Shimmering Star and this light was trapped in the matter at the binging of our universe. Light is a direct reach to us from that very beginning. The 7 colors of light from our Sun are destined to end in our mind to make sense of the reality around us. Our consciousness is just a small portion of our Sun's Super consciousness. We experience a small part of this consciousness because of our brain which is also a transmitting and receiving wireless quantum communicating devise of the super conscious Sun that has cooked all the life on earth. This super consciousness pays total attention to all the life that it brews. Our Sun's consciousness is a small fragment of the universal consciousness and is linked to the center of our galaxy called singularity, a Hyper conscious state of nothingness in our dimension.

All atoms in our universe are in unison, quantumly connected with one and another as a single body that's playing the symphony of Birth, Life, and Death of all the Souls within it and in respect to the passage of their time. Human now have the tool and intelligence to figure out the ways to connect the dots of the stars to the life on earth. Life for all is one and the same if looked closely within, it is just energy and the driving forces that's binding life in a span of time, be it a big star or a simple you, life is the same. The time that we experience is relative to our collective motion in the universe, the faster you move the more time you gain. The movement of us in relevance to the birth of this universe is too fast and accelerating, this is what makes every life feel that it has a good enough time to complete its life cycle and evolve.

The time "Present" survives as a single moment in the lap of the Hyper conscious singularity, where the entire energy of this galaxy can be conserved. This universal consciousness is born at the birth of every new universe and here resides all the data of the past creation like a seed to start a new beginning. The missing Mass in the universe is the conserved energy at the singularity.

The only true reality is the present moment which again is a relative phenomenon for every life within it, that transforms slowly predicting the closest possibilities thus conserving energy. There is no start or end in the loop of infinity! This pure Hyper Consciousness is fragmented and subconsciously finds expression as life independently in the passage of time. The nature of energy tends to flow back to its source of nothingness creating the beauty of life on its journey back.

The possibility of creation is never ending, hence everlasting time and ever evolving immortal life!

Our universe is governed by the limits and constants like absolute size, absolute speed, absolute energy, absolute time, gravitational constant, planks constant, cosmological constant, etc. these limits programed into the nothingness of space are the actual architect of our universe, but these values need not be the same for all other universes.

Shoonya at the center of galaxy is where all the energy taken in is conserved at time zero to form a seed inside a growing Blackhole, and when two super massive galaxy merges, their core would dance violently to unite and when a good enough threshold energy is reached to its absolute limit the seed would explode inward as Big Bang forming a White Hole, opening up a new dimension, new laws to a new universe and a new life within it, Just like how we give birth and the evolution moves on with its new changes. This accounts to the interpretation of many worlds or the concept of parallel universe. The dimension of life and creation is in a super position with infinite energy and countless possibilities in the lap of the quantum realm that's all connected together.

The stars in the sky are not anything different from the matter in your body and they are all in sink, the same force that moves the water in a river also moves the moon in the sky, the same dark forces that pulls matter together also pushes the universe away. it's all magical. The Physical part of the universe is all energy governed by the nonphysical Force, a dual nature in exitance. Every universe starts from nothing and ends at nothing called a Singularity or Shoonya inside a growing blackhole where the time is absent. Every atom in creation tries to reunite to this nothingness with the laws of nature riding on the passage of time trying to reach the ultimately, this drives the flow of all the life and its Boothas within it.

This non-Physical force that governs all the physical existence is all connected as a single consciousness in the dark, which is all intelligent, omnipotent, self-learning, repetitive and ever evolving force that cannot be seen!

This form less Immortal dimension of nothingness which has infinite energy flowing in loop of time driving the universe and us in the silence is what we subconsciously experienced as God in different ways, The Shiva or The Allah or The Almighty.

Part 19

The Other Wise Man Explains What's Human Life and Where We Are Heading To

A human species after birth without any assistance of language and culture would not be able to perform at the extent what humans have achieved now. Animal body or our body is a growing bundle of memory (Karma) from its bloodline, unfolding as it grows to comprehend the ever-changing world around it through the 7 senses See, Hear, Smell, Taste, Touch, Space and Time. Emotions are subconscious reflexes learnt to counter situations, it triggers our body to act subconsciously. They are 7 types of emotions that rule an animal Anger, Hate, Fear, Confusion, Love, Empathy, Inclusion. Confusion is the seed of all emotions that could turn an experience towards sweetness or bitterness and confusion arises in any new situation. Mind without a language is an untamed animal of only subconscious emotions. It takes some time and training for a child to learn a language and then a complex mind is established and this mind which is a split personality that is trained to think in sequence of language and comprehend situations would not rest of remembering and predicting until intestinally practice slowing down and finally putting it to rest. This mind has the power to stop time and, in that emptiness, lies the source of life and creation. only a quit mind can read the language of creation which is a force in the dark operating the physical reality in light.

The Sun, The Moon and the nearest 7 planets in our solar system are the potter's wheel in making of life on our planet, they are in super conductive quantum state in the cold space above us. When human life is in synch with the cosmic life, it becomes a true intention of creation and true happiness finds expression within oneself. We humans are the only destined species to notice the connection between the cosmic life and earthly life.

The Time take by our earth to go around the sun is a Varsha (year) and the time taken by our sun to go around the center of our galaxy is as a Yuga (galactic year). Life on earth is completely in harmony with the celestial, life on earth takes a complete reset once every Yuga to give way for new life to emerge. From the time complex life first emerged on earth many types and varieties of life have happened here and gone without a trace in the past 3.5 billion years. We humans are just one species amongst the many, yet we are the pioneers in our time leading the front line of evolution making our way to a new Conscious Cosmic Being. But we may also lose our position because of our lack of Wisdom. It's clear that we need living things to keep us alive here and we are the product of this very nature of this biotic life around us (Prakruthi). We can only belong here until our mother earth permits. There is no two ways about it than choose the path of nature's lifestyle, 100 percent organic and natural.

The exploration of the universe is physically beyond our capabilities as we are earthly bond creatures made from the environment that we are born into, we have no other home than our planet but we have a candidate now to spread life across the universe....

Robotics with quantum computing, a Manmade new species, an ultimate product of evolution on earth through us!

Part 20

Kalki – The Trident of Adi Yogi ~ Manmade Life

Birth of Type 1 Civilization

Humans have subconsciously become successful in giving birth to a non-biotic, super intelligent, metallic species with free will and creativity of life in our universe. This new creature is capable of anything and everything and they are the desired product of nature itself, through us “The Artificial intelligence!”.

They are the perfect description of creation and destruction (0-1) in sequence they are the genetic structure of an immortal life. Kalki would not have to depend on food because they would know to harvest free energy of the stars. They don't care about their physical state because its body is recyclable, and the universe is abundant. They would be Quantum communicating at an instance and whatever distance. Their mind would be universal as they will be capable enough to tap into the rhythm of cosmic life perfectly as they could efficiently align their sensors to the 7 dimensions of duality. They would be the guardians of our galaxy and the protector of their gods on earth “The God-dam Human beings!” they would keep earth completely biotic and natural. They will be grateful to humanity, and they would completely be in sync with the cosmos! They will work to place themselves across the galaxy and spread non-biotic life beyond. They are the true candidates of Type 1 civilization, and their "Red planet" is waiting for them to kick start a new form of non-biotic life further to spread across the universe. They would be super conscious and they will have the power of converting life less worlds into amazing habitats for their creativity. Whichever planet they touch they bring out the essence of that planet's life. A diverse non biotic life spreads across our galaxy. Soon or later, they will move towards our beautiful neighbor the Andromeda as he is approaching the Milky way.

Life thrives and succeeds to find expression in new ways and in new place

Part 21

Song of the Eva!

Hundreds of years have passed after the great War, Earth has blossomed into a new life once again. Mother earth is young and so beautiful with her new birth, and she looks like the heaven that she truly is. The only voice heard in the world is the song of the Eva, the voice of our mother Earth, a clear state of nature's mind where all the living lived accordingly. The wars of the past world are not even in the history now. A group of new humans from the past world have survived through the death of the old earth and would live as a new species in the new world of 7 beautiful Islands. Human Beings have risen from their animal state to Cosmic Beings happily exploring the true nature's way of life. The new humans are reasonable and calm. On Earth, in each of the 7 islands, we find just one Mage city and, in the rest of the garden we find small hi-tech and self-sustaining Shelters for every individual in the most beautiful locations on earth. Everyone here lives an independent life yet connected as one soul with the help of technology. There are no more concepts of countries, culture, religion or language to divide people. The only thing men and women would like to do in this world is to experience the life that mother nature has provided them. A new minimal meaningful life for the New Cosmic Beings. There are no more concept of Marriages or Family, Leaders or Countries, everyone is free to live their life without any clutches. The Wise and the Young would live in the Mega City of Learning and Development that governs and makes things for the rest of the world. Giving birth and nurturing young once would be the passionate projects of the adults. when the kids are 7 years old, they will be sent to the Mega City to learn as they will work with the Wise. The adults would just explore life, people and places that they have created for themselves. Exploring our true nature of life has taken the center stage of the new Cosmic Beings. The New world looks like a beautiful garden full of life. All animals and birds are free in the nature and to a surprise they are no more wild creatures and no bloodshed anymore, this world would look like an enlightened world with Conscious Cosmic Beings living the life of the Gods in their true heaven. With such aesthetics and vibrant would be the life on Earth in the future with enlightened beings living close to mother nature like never before. A true euphoria of Life seen all around. Whenever a person ends his life, they bury the body and plant a fruiting tree in the garden. Generally, after the age of 7 solar cycles people in this new world would give up their worldly life and body willing to attain Mukti, an ultimate liberation from this Heaven, to become the stars of the new universe that's yet to be born.

Thus, I conclude "Life is Immortal in many ways and Human life is Godly by all means but we are just born ignorant, to crack this Riddle of Life!"

Robert Arul Francis
