standing there holding fear in their eyes seeing in direction of A/M which was coming towards them in small but dangerous steps while her hands were controlling her dark powers which were wanted to just come out and ruined them both before they could had done anything one soldier came out they held the A/F's hand and teleported them in a mini second just like a snap. Aera and her mom just stood there in shock or dumfounded then Chief came of Neon planet and asked about them after not getting any response he just followed there gaze and founded the same spot were A/F and his wife was standing and he understood everything and just signal to Nobel to them back and they are here to handle everything. Nobel nobbed and went to them and told them to leave with him and A/M was standing there in that same position, Nobel looked at Aera and Aera just gave assuring blink that she will bring her and went to her and whispered something in her ear and she got normal everyone just get confused but you can also said shocked as she was the angriest person like her mom, but get clam on just whispering some words in her ears.

A/F- now I think we have to start.

Narrator- And the fight started the army of A/F, started coming towards them and they both started fighting in defensive mood as they were alone in front of thousand peoples of the A/F's army but then Jack and Nobel also came from behind the huge rock now drenched in her “precious blood” Jack run towards her while shouting her name ‘AERA’.

He went to near her and seeing her terrible state he fell on her knees while crying his heart out taking her hand in his, he exclaimed “today I have something to tell you but see you’re leaving me, WHY?”
