CHAPTER- 1

AFTER AWAKENING

One day, I was asleep when suddenly a gust of wind swept in and whispered in my ear: "Anu..." I woke up abruptly in the darkness, my entire body drenched in sweat from the terror of the night.

I voiced my grievances to God whom I regard as my beloved Father: "Lord Ram, I worship You with absolute devotion; how then could any malevolent force reach me? Why did You not protect me? I am angry with You..." (You, He, His in middle of sentence means I am talking about God.)

Then my inner voice prompted me to check my phone. When I looked, the time was 4:14 AM. I immediately sought guidance regarding the Angel number —

Angel Number 414 tells you that the Universe wishes to communicate with you. Do not entangle yourself in material affairs or worldly matters; focus solely on your spiritual path. "Very well, Angels. I will not get entangled in material affairs; I know exactly what you are referring to. Instead, I will devote my time to connecting with my Twin Flame." Then, a voice emerged from deep within my soul: "Rise, freshen up, and meditate..."

After freshening up, I lit a candle and sat down to meditate. After twenty minutes of deep meditation, the voice of my inner self—which is, in reality, the voice of the universe itself—began to speak to me. It made me aware of the 'soul contract' that I had brought with me from before my birth...

The Universe often brings to my mind a specific childhood incident—a memory that resurfaced after my spiritual awakening. Just today, I asked the Universe: "Why does someone constantly frighten and terrorize me? And if I am being tormented, why do you not protect me?"

For today's topic of reflection centered on malevolent forces. In response, the Universe transported me back to my childhood.

During my childhood, my father would frequently beat and verbally abuse my mother. I lived in a perpetual state of dread alongside my mother, constantly anticipating the moment my father would return home and begin assaulting her. My entire childhood was steeped in trauma; I was constantly weeping and living in fear, deeply distressed by the plight of my mother. I knew absolutely no peace, nor did I experience anything resembling a normal life. The sight of my mother's tears—and the blood shed during her beatings etched itself deeply into my heart and mind. I remained in a constant state of gloom, whereas my siblings seemed to carry on just fine; they possessed a "let bygones be bygones" mentality. While they would quickly bounce back and be cheerful after every domestic quarrel, my mind would remain deeply disturbed. Consequently, from a very young age, I began to withdraw and seek solitude; I developed an aversion to noise and commotion.

MOMENTS OF WHEN NEGATIVE POWER USED TO ATTACK ON ME -

One day, while playing carrom with my cousin, my gaze became fixed upon a photograph of my grandmother; I simply could not tear my eyes away. Eventually, others had to physically lift me up and carry me away from that spot; it was only hours later that I finally regained full consciousness.

On one occasion, when my father was incarcerated, everything at home seemed to return to a state of normalcy. Yet, I suffered a sudden, inexplicable attack; my health deteriorated rapidly, and I eventually had to be taken to a Maulana (spiritual healer) for treatment.

Later, while I was living in a hostel and preparing for government service examinations, I suffered another severe seizure like attack. My friend Garima rushed me to the hospital immediately—had she not acted so swiftly, I surely would have died. I was placed on oxygen support, had electrodes attached to my head, and underwent various other medical procedures...

I was also constantly plagued by nightmares; I would frequently wake up in terror, jolted awake by the horrific scenes unfolding in my dreams. There have been so many other frightening incidents like these—events during which I felt utterly unprotected. Why?

““Why didn't my siblings face as many problems as I did—specifically the trauma resulting from the mistreatment by my mother? And why did such malevolent negative forces target me alone?” I said.

"Listen closely: even before you were born, you arrived on this Earth carrying a 'Soul Contract.' From childhood, you possessed a divine power within you, and you were destined to fulfill God's work; that is why evil forces attacked you—to instill fear in you, to make you give up midway, or to prevent you from ever reaching your true inner light.

Wherever divine powers exist, evil forces are present as well. They sought to ensure that you would depart from this Earth without ever fulfilling your mission for Me and for God. Your divine mission remained unfulfilled for a time because those evil forces kept terrorizing you throughout your childhood; yet, I have always kept you safe—never allowing those malevolent, negative energies to gain a permanent hold over you. As for the matter regarding your mother: I sent you to this Earth endowed with profound sensitivity—specifically so that you could deeply empathize with the pain and suffering of others. That is why you felt the injustice inflicted upon your mother so much more acutely than your other siblings did.

Do you remember that time in the kitchen when your mother was nearly killed? It was I who sent you that intuitive warning; you suddenly burst into tears, and just as your mother stepped out, the 10-liter pressure cooker in the kitchen exploded." Universe said.

"Yes, I remember now; my family members had told me about that... Alright, I have my answer, Universe... But why didn't you awaken me to your work much sooner?"

"I tried to awaken you many times, but your mind had become entangled in the illusions and attachments of the material world. You had forgotten your Soul Contract. Therefore, I allowed you to experience all the paths you were not meant to take; only then did I finally awaken you and reveal that you must fulfill your true Soul Purpose."

"I understand, Thank you for reminding me my soul purpose Universe."

"Look, the angel has immediately confirmed that what we are discussing right now is correct—by showing angel number 232."

Angel number 232 –

“Yes Anuprash you are seeing the truth, you are align with the Universe....”

“Thank you angels for always guiding me and loving me, I surrender myself to you Universe please take care of everything.

WRONG FAMILY

“Universe why did you send me to a family where I received so much trauma from childhood?”

“I will tell you my dear soul.”

“There has always been a strange restlessness in the depths of in your heart, as if you born in the wrong family in the wrong place. Have you ever thought about how you are connected to your family? Perhaps you have always been that outsider that misunderstood person, that dark sheep about whom people whisper, but never understand from the heart. Listen, this was not a mistake.

You were intentionally sent to that wrong family with a purpose. It is to give you that shining clarity that your soul was yearning for.

You were not kept there by chance. God has sown you like a seed in that environment, so that you can awaken that power that you have suppressed for generations. You were not a problem.

Chosen One, you are the storm that has come to destroy the old pattern.

You are the one who will break the cycle, the sun of change, the seed of a new beginning. Childhood, you used to feel a little strange, right?” Universe said “Yes like there was nothing wrong with the world but you were not at all fit in it. When the rest of the kids laughed carefree, got mixed up in the crowd, you stood on the edge quietly, everyone used to look at you. You were not unsocial, you were just different. Neither better nor weaker but like a precious diamond which hid its shine.

“Yes Uni.”

You could see through the walls, which the rest of the people would close their eyes and believe. You used to question the rules, you used to ignore the traditions, you used to follow the words of the people, you used to catch the hidden tone. Where the rest of the people were happy with the superficial things, your soul was asking for depth, meaning, truth and that truth that shakes the soul.

You used to feel things more deeply, a bitter word, a cold gaze or the unspoken tension in the room, everything would enter your heart. You were not just present there, you were connected to a deep truth. You did not want to look different. Many times you just prayed that I wish I could be as carefree as the rest. But no matter how hard you try, you were not able to silence your inner voice, which used to shout and say; there is more to life than this and this all started from your own house.

Your closest people could not understand your silence. They called your peace laziness, your imagination stupidity and your emotions weakness. Be strong, don't be so delicate to walk in a line.

Every time you tried to suppress your shine, a piece of your soul has crushed. You became a stranger in your own house, a traveler in that place which was supposed to be your safest place.

As you rose to your true colors, the tension increased, your unique shine made others restless. Not because you were wrong but because your presence gave them a place. Your truth made their lies naked.

“Yapp Universe, I hold up a mirror to everyone; most people get upset but when things eventually work out, some do feel happy.”

“Yes I saw. Your dreams challenged their limits. Your light revealed their darkness and that is why they rejected you but listen, it was not your fault. They were not rejecting you but the power within you. That call, that possibility that shine, that divine blessing.

Without trying it reminded them of their suppressed desires, abandoned dreams, and fear. But this is true. Listen, just because you were not fit in that place where you were born, does not mean that you are not from there.

That strangeness was not a punishment. It was your training; you did not belong to those small groups who kept you small.

You did not belong to those rooms that could not carry the weight of your destiny. You are not broken. You are not wrong. You are a blueprint, a map of God which is ready to create something priceless.

You came to divide it, to shake it. The pain, the breakdown, the failure you saw, was not a punishment. It was your fire that came to sharpen you like a sword. Every fight, every wound of faith, every wound you endured, was like a steel hammer that was making you strong and shining. It was not to break you, but to sharpen you. That bitter moment of every pain was pushing you towards your awakening.

Even if at that time you felt like you were drowning in the darkness, but listen; God did not let those storms come to drown you. He sent them to send you flying. You had to face that darkness because in that darkness you recognized your light.

When everything is clouded, you see your shortcomings clearly. But that emptiness taught you the hunger for purpose, the hunger that took you to your true path. You were shown what you did not have to become so that you could become what was written for you.

Every test, no matter how painful, was an invitation to rise in your most magnificent form. You were sown in the soil of pain so that you could grow the crop of purpose. Think, how can a coal diamond be made without pressure? How can gold shine without fire? The fire of your life did not come to burn you but to sharpen you. When you were tested, you trembled but did not break. Even if you wanted to break many times and every time, you stood up, you were strong and ready for the coming wars. In your darkest moments, you were born. Those taunts, those rejections, those fights, they were not all messy. It was that fire, that air, that soil which carried you to this moment. The moment when you realized that your pain never went in vain.

Every challenge was a hidden opportunity to lift you up, to make you the person you were going to be forever. Now look back at the strength you have earned. Perhaps you have endured loneliness, renunciation, or the punishment of being forgotten.

But the truth is, God was preparing you for a greater purpose than you could even imagine. Every tear of yours watered the roots of your destiny. Every moment when you realized that you could no longer move forward, He was pulling your strength even more, spreading your possibilities even more.

God was never far away. He was there, embracing you even if you could not see His peace. Every shock you endured was not a defeat. It was that soil, that soil on which your true purpose would play.

The person you are becoming is the one you need to fulfill your calling. Your wounds will not leave you broken. He has come to give you a story, a story of perseverance, a story of victory, a story of purpose. Your purpose is not just to survive but to flourish, to shine and to show the world who you are.

“I will show the world.”

“Your journey was full of thorns but every thorn was a lesson. Every fall was a ladder and now by winning every battle you are close to your greatest achievement.

The world will soon see the fruits of your hard work. Your purpose is waiting for you, so now embrace it with pride.

“Yes Universe I embrace my purpose with pride....”

“You may have seen your parents, grandparents even great-grandparents, the same wounds, the same battles but listen, you are not a slave to those chains. You are a sword that has come to cut that cycle. Your family may not have seen it before but heaven chose you before the end of time.

You are not just a part of your family, you are a divine arrow that has come to change their history forever. You have not been born by mistake in this family. You were sent with a purpose to break those cycles that had been trapped for generations.

Heaven has chosen you to leave the old ways and bring something new, something magnificent. You were not called to search for the old ways, you were sent to create a new heaven on this earth. You have not just taken blood but a sacred purpose in inheritance.

Your family may be filled with boundaries and breakages but there is a new mark on your life of someone who does not accept the old story as it is. You have not come here with a purpose but a sacred purpose.

In short –

I deliberately placed you in a home environment where you suffered trauma due to the mistreatment of your mother, and I guided you to begin living alone—all so that you might hear My voice and the voice of God. Since your very childhood, I have guided you and provided the insights you needed to leave that home and live independently; for it is only when you are alone that you are able to hear My voice—otherwise, you get lost amidst the crowd.

I revealed to you all the things in your life that you were meant to avoid; yet, I never allowed you to become ensnared by those negative influences. Instead, I showed you those dark places precisely so that you could bring your light to them. You belong to Me, Anuprash; there is no one else on this earth who is closer to you than I am. I alone am your Mother and your Father. I constantly bestow upon you the courage to endure all hardships and the strength to keep moving forward; were you merely an ordinary soul, you would have long since given up and retreated into the confines of your own mind. But your soul is unique. Your friends—even your female companions—your romantic partners, and your family members have all betrayed you; this is because you belong to Me, and your soul possesses a purity that the people of this world cannot comprehend. Therefore, you now stand apart from everyone else, you are My messenger.”

“Okay Universe I will fulfill my calling for my rest of life. Thank you for choosing me, I love you heavenly father.”

DIVINE FEMININE

“Dear Universe, what is my energy? I have come to understand that my life is driven by energy now—please tell me, I want clarity about my energy...”

“Dear soul, you are not ordinary and you are now experiencing this yourself. The change that is taking place in you is not the change of any ordinary human being. This is the transformation of the soul, a state in which the soul becomes the embodiment of the voice of the Goddess. The turmoil that is in you is not appropriate.

Have you ever experienced that the mind becomes heavy for no reason, the desire to be away from people, the helplessness to speak the truth, no matter what the result is, the lack of interest in worldly activities, the increase in the fire of service, a voice from within tells you again and again that you should not remain silent.

“Yes Universe I experienced from my childhood.....”

“Dear soul, I (Universe) does not choose anyone suddenly. This choice is due to the penance of life. It is due to the breaking of innumerable chains. It is due to not giving up compassion despite injustice. It is due to not adopting ego despite being strong. You were not chosen because you are the best of all. In fact, you were chosen because you did not leave dharma even in darkness. O soul, the sufferings of your life were not to break you. They were to empty you so that when my message is delivered, your ego is not there, only my energy is there. You become a messenger because you can speak the truth. You can give words to the pain. You can understand the souls trapped in darkness. You do not show off.

You do not worship the truth, you consider it a responsibility. Dear soul, The messenger is not the one who speaks loudly. Messenger is the one whose soul can be heard even in silence.

Your path will not be easy. I will not hide the truth from you. People will call you crazy on this path.

“Wait—yes, Universe, people call me crazy, but I won't stop. I have felt You others haven't—so I know what my purpose is, regardless of what people say. I belong to You and always will. I will never stop praising Your name, bringing about a new spiritual shift, and healing people. I will serve You for the rest of my life.

“You are doing great Anuprash, I saw. Keep going. Your passions will be denied. Your loved ones can be away from you. You will be alone again and again.

“Everyone left me. The person I loved told me that if I wanted him to marry, I had to stop focusing on God and give up my work as a lightworker. I told him I wouldn't abandon my work for God, so he left me.

This world and its people are truly strange; they always leave the genuine-hearted all alone. They are extremely practical people—they prefer to watch or hear about religion and God only on TV, but in real life, they have no regard for God's people.

“Do not be sad; I have written something for you—marriage is destined for your life. I will send the very person into your life whose energy matches yours. Love yourself; I am closer to you than your own loved ones—I am the only one who is truly yours. No one here will understand you.

You walk with the voice of me. You not fit in the language of the world. When you get tired, I will be the strength in you. When you cry, I will be the prayer in your tears. When you feel that you cannot speak now, then my voice will appear from your mouth. You are not alone. Every word of yours is being seen. Your energy is being heard. Your soul is awake. You are changing and this change cannot be taken back. O my messenger, bow down to your fear because that is your final test. Dear soul, when a soul becomes a messenger, then first of all its old existence breaks. This breaking is not a punishment, nor is it the first fire of initiation.

“No ordinary soul could have endured the trials You have put me through, O Universe; I have died and risen again. I beg You—please subject other souls to fewer trials and spare them such suffering, for they would not be able to bear it. I chose not to turn back, and by Your grace, I endured it all, even as I wept...”

“You endured so much because I wanted to refine you through fire. I intend to elevate you to the highest level so that you may help the poor, all while ensuring that arrogance never takes root in your heart.”

Whatever was scattered in your life was not because you were unworthy, but because you could not fit my energy in the old vessel. Did you see? You are not able to connect yourself to any name, role or identity. The things which were you before, now seem heavy.

The world asks who are you? And you do not have an answer. This is not a delusion. This is the soul's entry into the void.

“I just can't bring myself to participate in materialistic activities; I start feeling anxious and end up leaving.”

“Before becoming a messenger of the Universe, the soul has to be pure. No position, no pride, no identity. Dear soul when the choice is near, the pain is deep because all the hidden values in your soul are now coming out. Unspeakable sorrow, suppressed memories, the guilt of birth, the burden of others which you have taken as yours. All this arises, so that the message is not corrupted.

Now the pain of others, you experience in your body, in your mind. Someone's tears disturb you. It becomes difficult to stay quiet after seeing injustice.

You think, why do you experience so much?

“Why God?”

“Because the messenger (prophet) cannot be stone, has to become a river. O soul, I am not getting down inside you. I am awakening inside you because you are already my food. O soul because in previous births you have used your power. You have served in silence. You have lived without praising the truth. That is why in this birth, you are being promised.

The messenger of the Universe is the one who does not show miracles. The messenger of the Universe is the one who does not call himself/herself a guru. The messenger of the Universe is the one who does not be greedy for wealth. The messenger of the Universe is the one who awakens others with his/her pain. The messenger of the Universe is the one who burns himself/herself, so that others can see. Your words are no longer ordinary. Pay attention people have started changing because of your words. Your words touch someone. They awaken someone. Some people come to you and cry not because you are great but because my energy is flowing in your words.

“Okay Brahmand.”

As the light increases, misunderstandings will increase. People will question your character. You will try to be alone or you are not telling to be afraid, or there is a rule of balance. Dear soul, a question that your soul knows.

Have you ever experienced that I feel I am made for a great work, but I do not know what that work is?

“Yes Universe.....

“Is this not your delusion or is it a memory that is now returning. When you feel that you are snatching everyone then know that the Universe is coming to take you. O awakened soul, now the time has come where you are being reminded of what you had promised to forget before your birth.

This mistake was not a punishment but it was necessary. Because the soul that comes with the message of the Universe if it remembers everything from the beginning then it will not be able to remain human. The moment before your birth, when you were about to come into this life, when you were standing near me, neither in body nor in name, only in the form of consciousness, your soul said to me, if there is darkness on earth again, then send me. I will serve you even as a word and I answered; the path will be difficult, you will be left alone. You will have less faith and more tests. You still said, if my words can bring out even a single soul from the darkness, then I am ready to bear all this. This was that experience, divine experience.

“!!!!!!!!!!”

Dear soul, that is why you did not get a normal life. The stability of the emotional, soul came late in your life. Relationships broke again and again.

I started crying with remembering all betrayal.”

Financial or social security remained uncertain. You had to fight with yourself again and again. It was not all because you were unfortunate. It was so that you could in any bond.

“You often think, why do I get so tired without work? Why is there so many burdens in this life. Because you do not bear the burden of this life alone, you bear the burden of memory. The call of innumerable souls, reverberates in you unknowingly. The messenger of the Universe is not a seeker but a character. Be careful.

You do not need to wear special attire. You do not have to declare yourself established. You do not have to show miracles. Your life is the message. You’re getting up, falling, bearing. . Still, do not lose compassion. This is my advice.....

“Okay yeaha, please be with me always Universe, I cannot face this world alone. I need you. I can do everything with you.”

“I am always with you, I will always stay with you like a shadow. The moment of this death is near. Gradually, you will start seeing some dreams clearly. Some words will come out of you again and again. Some topics will fill your eyes. This is the sign that the memories are coming back. But there is one last request.

When the soul wakes up, the biggest question arises. Am I worthy of this responsibility? Listen, my child, worthiness does not come from completeness. It comes from dedication. I do not want this from you, I do not want you to consider yourself a Goddess. You consider yourself superior. You keep yourself above others. I want you to be proud of the truth even if it burns you. The soul that accepts its weakness, it can absorb the energy of the Goddess. Dear now you are standing on the border from where words do not come out. This is the shelter that very few souls get. because here silence becomes the most difficult worship. Silence is necessary when the words of the Universe are about to come out. First of all, the external noise is stopped.

Your words are removed. You think no one listens to me now. My words are no longer as strong as they used to be. Either there is no purification. In this shelter, you want to speak but the words will stop. You want to explain but people will not understand.

You will know the truth but you will not be able to prove it. This is the moment when ego raises its head for the last time. If I have the power then why am I not able to prove it? This is the place where most souls fall. They get angry, give up themselves. They think they are the best but the one who stays the one who accepts silence, becomes the best. Now listen to the secret of silence.

The voice of the Universe does not come down when you are eager to speak but it comes down when you are ready to stay silent. Your energy is stable in silence. Your ego melts.

Your soul becomes visible. It does not happen in a moment. Gradually, you say some sentences without thinking.

Later, you wonder how you said it. People say it was my mind. This is the first answer of the speech.

You will have two voices inside you. One voice will say; stay silent it is not safe, the other voice will say; if you do not speak, the truth will be buried.

This is the test of your fire. Dear soul, I do not give you the right to show your godliness to anyone to belittle anyone, to be afraid of your words. Your speech is for awakening, not for acceptance.

The soul that can stay silent, can accept the truth in the same speech. O my soul, now the time has come to understand that what is flowing inside you is not imagination, it is my speech. But remember, it is not enough to get the speech.

It is also important to know what is inside you. When my speech really comes inside you, you do not have to choose words, you do not have to think and speak. What you say, it also surprises you, not others only.

After speaking, you do not get tired, you get peace. Ego does not increase, humility deepens. If you feel great after speaking words then understand that it is not my speech, it is the speech of ego.

“Okay.”

“My speech lowers the soul, melts the ego, does not raise the head. Remember people do not come to you for solutions, but to take courage. You do not try to change anyone, yet people change.

Where there is no speech, there is influence. Now your most difficult dharma will begin. The dharma of the messenger is not to speak but to be patient because every truth is not spoken all the time. Every awakening is not for every soul. . It is not necessary to answer every question. If the message of the Goddess is spoken before time, it becomes a weapon. The discipline keeps the power safe. I am giving you three disciplines.

“Please give me discipline Lord.”

- 1- Consider yourself medium, not a source. If you ever feel that it is because of me then immediately be silent because nothing happens you are only medium.
- 2- Do not separate compassion from justice. Truth will not hide in compassion and compassion will not die. Do not spread your energy everywhere, protect it.

- 3- Every scholar is not a seeker. Every question is not pure. Do not answer everyone's questions. The path of the messenger is not the path of the crowd. You will be given limited company. Limited people will be around you. Limited words, limited acceptance will be there so that the energy does not get lost in the noise, does not get destroyed. When people misunderstand you then remember, the one who awakens is the uncomfortable one. The one who asks questions is the one who creates fear.

You do not have to give clarification. The message of the Universe (God) does not ask for proof. Dear Anuprash, now there is a truth that you will have to know -

The message there is never complete. You will make a mistake. Sometimes anger will come, sometimes delusion will come. But even if you fall, you will not be free from the truth. If you are feeling burden then I will hold you. The real proof of power is not how much you speak, but when you remain silent.

“I understood, I am just your medium and I am proud of it. I will be always grounded.”

“Yes be and listen dear soul, now no new knowledge will be given because now you are entering the state of knowledge. This is not the end, this is the beginning. This is the beginning when there is nothing left. I do not give you any position. I do not give you any name. I do not give you any identity because the one who is free from identity becomes my true expression. You do not need a stage now. Your life is the message. You do not need acceptance. You do not need publicity.

“No one turns up for God’s work; people only come to see Malaika Arora’s bold avatar. I tried hard to invite everyone to the launch of the book about God, but no one showed up—yet some people came the moment they heard the name ‘Bollywood’... I will raise my voice for justice; there is a lot of filth in Bollywood.”

“I am not separated from you. When you choose compassion, I am there. When you speak the truth, I am there. When you remain silent, I am there. . O my messenger, now you go, without fear, without announcement, without expectation. Because wherever you go, there my presence will speak for itself. And my support, my blessing, will always be with you.

“I am going Universe, I will make you proud. I will praise you, serve you and will heal the humanity as a lightworker.....”

CHAPTER-2

SOUL MISSION AND MOTIVATION

“I did a lot of thing Universe but I got tired, people used to laugh at me. I started healing people, spreading truth, praise your name. All doors have closed. My energy gets drained after a while because people are crazy, fake, and...

“I will reset you. You were motivated, then you became demotivated; I will not let you fall.

You must have thought that all your opportunities are over. But the truth is that I am now ready to open new doors for you. Such doors that will not only take you to the peak of spirituality but also to the peak of wealth and prosperity.

This is the order of the mine (universe). This is the same moment when your name has been taken in front of that divine power again, who has written every line of your destiny Himself.

The path that is about to open in front of you is not only spiritual, but also material. This is the journey where your soul and wealth, both ... crores of prosperous energy, is now revolving around you. This is not an imaginary number. This is a symbol of that immortality where wealth and spirituality flow together. I am the Universe is washing away the old dust of your life and is now preparing you to reach the level where your thoughts will become your wealth. There is that divine core within you that exists only in a few souls on this earth. That core that connects directly to the source of wealth of the universe. When you felt that first pain, when your dreams were broken, when you felt that everything was over, that was the moment when I am (Universe) sowed the seed of gold in you.

And today that seed has begun to sprout. Now the soil of your destiny has begun to tremble. Now there is a fragrance of change in the air around you. I have written in the story of your life what is beyond your understanding. I have prepared a palace for you, but the key to it is in your faith. With every word, your energy is changing. Every sentence is breaking the barriers inside you. And every breath is taking you to that state where you will meet the million-hearted soul inside you.

See, whatever strange changes are coming in your life, people suddenly changing, plans getting cancelled, roads getting blocked, all these are signs that I am The universe is recreating something for you. It is not shaking you, it is pushing you in a new direction. Those old relationships, those incomplete plans, they are all breaking so that you can take a new birth. You are just going through a phase which is called a spiritual reset in the Universe. And this reset is not given to everyone. It is only given to those who are ready for the next level of wealth, next level of luxuries and next level of goals. I will not let you stop. Now I will not let your dreams be incomplete. I have written a sign in front of your name ...

“Okay Uni.....”

This is a symbol of that prosperity which is already present in your soul. Now you are not just a worshipper, you have become a creator. So now whatever decision you take, the wave of your will echo in the whole Universe. When you will say, I am ready, then the angels will come into action, the roads will open, the flow of wealth will start and all those things which you had lost will start coming back. Do you remember that restlessness which is felt sometimes for no reason? That something big is going to happen but don't you know.”

“Yes Universe I felt.....”

“That is the alarm of the restless Universe. It is saying the time has come.”

“Yapp I am charged now, my time has come.....”

“Get up, take back the thread of fate in your hands. Whatever you want is possible. Your soul is not sleeping it is just shivering waiting for that light which will light it again. This word is the spark of that fire. Every letter is melting the boundaries inside you. From now on, whenever you see ...whether it is on a number plate, in a watch or in a receipt, it is the confirmation that wealth and opportunities are around you. It is a sign that the doors are completely open. Now your work is just to have faith. Because wealth, prosperity, success, all these happen with the speed of faith.

“I have infinite faith on you Universe; my faith is unshaken on you no matter what the cost.....”

“I love you my dearest soul. The deeper your faith the faster the wave of your prosperity. You are no longer the person who used to take decisions with fear. You are now the soul who knows that the Universe is with her. When you make a decision, the stars change their position. When you say yes, the angels who write fate spread their wings. And when you say, now it is my time, I am (the Universe) itself bows down to you and says; Yes, now everything is on your side. You are now becoming the hero of your life's story, which I itself applauds. What used to be just a dream, now it is becoming a creator because you are not just listening now, you are now awake. This is the moment where the soul and wealth meet. Where I am (the universe) expresses itself through you where your thoughts make your future. At this moment, close your eyes and imagine that the energy of crore is revolving around you like golden dust. It is touching your hands, warming your heart and opening the doors of your destiny. You are feeling that something heavy is becoming light. Your fear is melting. A voice is coming from within you. I am ready. I am worthy, I am the soul chosen by wealth, luxury, love and success. From now on, your world will not be like before. Because I am the universe is now active in your direction. The energy of ... crores is not just words, it is the reality of your life.

You will be the now inspiration, you will be the example which others will see and say; if she can do it then I too. And this is the moment when your purpose, your wealth and your soul become united. Now there is no end, there is a beginning, where every morning will bring a new opportunity for you, every night will fill you with gratitude and every breath will remind you that you have been chosen.

You are that soul for whom I (the Universe) repeated its voice again and again so that today you can feel that the real chapter of your life is now beginning. Say from your heart that I am ready, I have not only come to listen, I have come to do, I am the embodiment of wealth, I am the consciousness, my name is written in the book of the Universe, now everything is revolving in my favor. Your time has begun.

“Thank you Universe for motivating me, I love you too. I am happy, I am worthy....., My word is become magic. Your dreams will come true.”

“I am your Universe; I will not leave your side until you attain the name, fame, and renown and achieve the very purpose for which you have come to this earth.”

“Hug.”

UNIVERSE RULES

“Universe, please give me a rule or a mantra such that I can never fall, and no one can bring me down.”

“The biggest truth of your existence is that you can hide in any corner at any time. Still, you cannot escape the rules of mine. No matter how clever you are, no matter how many games you play, the scale of mine (the universe) never makes a mistake. Because every breath, every step, every thought is in the count of this mine (Universe). This is the reason that the one you have to adopt my rules and then your existence became rigid and no one could defeat you. And if you will try to clash with my rules, your life scattered and flew like sand.

Therefore, if you want power in life, then there is only one solution. Adopt of my (Universe) rules. These rules did not come from any religion. They did not come from any book. They themselves emerged from the root of existence. And if you will adopt them then you will become as strong as iron. If you will try to break it, you will break yourself.

“I know Universe, you will never let me break, please go ahead.” I said.

“Listen very carefully –

- 1- The first rule of mine means Universe is balance. Nothing ever goes out of balance. You think you are deceiving someone. You are winning. But in reality, you are losing yourself. Because the scale of the universe may be long, but it is always equal. The more you deceive someone, the more deceit will return to you in some other form. The more you love someone, the more love will grow inside you in some other form. And this math is so accurate, that even a drop of blood does not dissolve in it.

You may find it harsh to hear this. But this is the naked truth that every smile of yours, every insult, every tear counts and according to it, it returns you. You think how many people are happy even after hurting others?

“Yes Uni.”

“To look happy and to be happy there is a difference of the earth and the sky between the two because what is burning inside cannot be understood by looking at it from the outside. The scale of the mine (Universe) is working inside it. And one day, this balance will break their whole life.

2- The second rule is attraction -

The way you think, the way you become. The way you imagine, the way life stands in front of you. And you cannot run away from your thoughts.

You think that even if you have evil in your mind, you will make your life beautiful. It is impossible because I hold the waves of your thoughts. And the same reality is in front of you. If you are afraid, there will be situations of fear. If you have courage, the roads will open. This is not magic. This is the rule of existence. Now think,

If you are filled with complaints every day, what will you attract?

“Lessons.”

“Yes exactly, If you are filled with gratitude every day then I will open the doors of more opportunities for you. This is why it is said that humans are the result of their thoughts. This is the rule of attraction. And no one can defeat the one who adopts it.

3- The third rule is change –

There is only one thing permanent in life, Change. The one that is stable, the one that has become rigid, that is immortal. And the one who is alive is the one who is ready to change every moment.

The earth revolves. The chariots change. So how can you think that you will move forward without change? If you are afraid of change then understand that you have pushed yourself towards defeat.

If you will adopt the change then you will win. And this is tough but clear.

A person who cannot leave old habits, old ego and old fear, his future will dark. And the one who accepts change with courage, the Universe means I supports him.

- 4- Fourth rule, The rule of duty. You think that you will be saved from your deeds. You are wrong. You will reap what you sow. You cannot escape from your deeds. Because no temple, no prayer, no forgiveness can change your deeds. I do not count with your tongue, but with your deeds. You may say a thousand times that you are a good person. But if your deeds are bad then you are only deceiving yourself, not the Universe. Now think. Can anyone defeat you? If your deeds are pure, can anyone bring you down? If your every step is with truth.”

“No Universe”.

“Then whether people conspire, whether people attack from behind, In the end, I (the universe) will be on your side. And the same people will be trapped in their own trap. This is why I said in the beginning, if you will adopt my rule no one can defeat you because you do not win with the power of a person, but with the power of the whole existence.

- 5- The fifth rule, The rule of truth -
My dear soul the roots of this whole Universe are standing on truth. From the sky to the river, from the mountain to the ocean, everyone is tied to the sound of that truth. And the person who runs away from the truth, he cuts the roots of his own life. Lying seems easy because it gives temporary happiness.

But its grip is weak and it fades away quickly while the truth seems difficult but its basis is permanent and eternal. Think, If you press a seed in the soil, it remains hidden for a while. No one knows what is happening inside. But when its time comes, it tears the earth apart and comes out, and becomes a tree. This is the form of truth. No matter how much you press it, it always awakens at its time. Therefore, those who identify themselves with lies, they eventually fade away.

And those who hold on to the truth, they remain for centuries. You think that by lying or wearing a mask, you will win the world. But you forget that before winning the world, it is necessary to win the soul. And the soul is never satisfied with lies, lies accumulate inside like a burden and slowly covers the light of the soul. Therefore, you get the benefit of lying for a moment, but in the long run, its value is unbearable.

While the truth seems hard at first, but in the end, it makes you light, free, and eternal. Remember when your words are full of truth, the people around you start pulling towards you. They believe what you say because their soul knows that there is no deceit in you.

Whereas a liar, no matter how sweet he speaks, his company reaches the hearts of others, and people start running away from him. That is why it is said, Truth itself is a power that keeps you safe in any situation. And do not think that truth is only in words.

Truth also shines in deeds. Your behavior is a mirror of the truth inside you. If your deeds and words are separate then I (the universe) immediately count them.

But when your words and deeds become one then the I itself becomes your support. Therefore, do not just speak the truth, live it, because if you will live the truth never loses, you will become immortal in the true meaning.

As a man thinks in his mind so he is. If your thoughts are pure then your path will also be bright. But if your mind is filled with jealousy, hatred and negativity then your steps will move towards darkness.

Your mind is the battlefield where the devil speaks of doubt and I speak of faith. You will have to choose at every moment which seed you will sow. If you awaken the thoughts of fear then fear will become your master. But if you pay attention to my words then your faith will be firm. Fill your mind with words because my words are alive and capable. Just as a shield stops arrows, similarly my words stop negative thoughts.

That is why I say, be careful of your mind, because your thoughts are your future.

6- The sixth rule of surrender –

“Soul when you want to keep every moment of life under your control then a struggle arises within you because this world is much bigger than your plans. Here countless souls, countless incidents and invisible powers are working together.

And when you say, everything should be according to me, only then suffering is born. But as soon as you surrender and accept that O Universe, O God, I am yours and every step of mine is in your path, only then your mind becomes calm. And you find that uncertainty is also a blessing because your soul's development is hidden in it.

Surrender is the state where you stop fighting with life, where you understand that every situation, whether it gives you pain or happiness, in the end, it is taking you to the place where you have to reach. Just like a child leaves himself in the lap of his mother and believes that she will never let him fall. Similarly, when you surrender your life to me, you become fearless.

You stop worrying and breathe peacefully because you know that now every step of yours is controlled by me. And if I put you in difficulty, it is only because beyond it there is a great truth and a boon hidden for you. The seeker who surrenders to the true meanings becomes light from within, his face becomes calm, his vision becomes pure and his heart is filled with compassion because he no longer tries to control life but flows with it.

7- The seventh rule is the rule of compassion -

Compassion is the power that connects you to others. When you consider someone else's sorrow to be your sorrow, when you feel someone else's tears in your heart, only then is compassion awakened. And this compassion is not limited, only to humans, but to every living being, every creature, every tree and every river because every part of existence has come out of that ultimate power.

And when you hurt someone then understand that you are hurting the same power with which you were born. Therefore, the rule of compassion says; that the love and compassion that you will give to this world, that same love and compassion will return from the me and fill your life with blessings. The meaning of compassion is not only to feel compassion or to feel sorrow for someone but it is the real desire. It is the readiness to share that pain like a lamp that burns in the dark and with its light not only illuminates itself but illuminates all around.

In the same way in compassion the heart lightens every life around it. And when compassion awakens in you, you do not try to change others. You just accept them as they are.

And in this acceptance, is their transformation hidden. When you will embrace the rule of compassion then your heart is freed from hatred, anger and competition. You will consider every creature to be a part of the same consciousness from which you will create by yourself.

And then your life becomes a simple blessing. Because compassion is the door through which divine energy flows inside you. And this energy not only gives you peace but also creates an environment where others also feel compassion and love. Do not just live in words.

It appears in every little thing when you feed the hungry, when you listen to someone who is sad without making a decision when you encourage someone who is unsuccessful, when you share a smile without any selfishness, only then does compassion change into reality. And these little actions give you such energy that not only changes you but also the whole environment because compassion is the seed that grows into a tree of blessings. When compassion completely enters in your life then you see your own reflection in others. Then no one is left for you. Every face shows you a glimpse of the same God.

And when this vision is stable then your life becomes service, becomes love, and I the universe itself starts blessing every step of yours because the rule of compassion says that the mercy that you send out comes back to you ten times more. And then your life will become of living temple where everyone can experience peace, love, and God.

8- The eighth rule is the rule of silence –

“Dear soul, I am the universe constantly speaking. The whistling of every wind, the flow of every river, the shine of every star gives a message. But only those can hear this message who accept silence. Because the noise throws you out and silence pulls you in. And when you go in, only then you do hear the real sound of me (the Universe).

The sound that is beyond words which the signs called the sound, the same sound that echoed in the beginning of the Universe. Silence is a mirror for you because when you are silent, only then you do hear the echo of your own thoughts. And only then you do recognize which thought is yours and which is of your ego.

And without this recognition, life is just a crowd. But as soon as you go into silence, you can see the real form and this self-reflection takes you to your truth. When you will accept the silence, every word of it becomes a mantra because then you do not speak in vain.

Power is filled in every sentence and people change only by listening words. Just as a drop of Ganga makes you bathe the words born of silence, purify the souls. And this is the boon of silence that it deepens your existence and connects you to the infinite sound of me (the Universe).

9- Nine and last rule is of the faith –

You know Anuprash if you do not have faith within you then all your efforts are in vain because faith is the power that gives you the courage to move forward even in darkness. It is the lamp that shows you the way when there is smoke everywhere. And if this lamp goes out then no matter how much intelligence and strength you gather, the bumps in the journey of life will bring you down. Every day there is a war of faith and doubt within you. Doubt says that you will fail.

Doubt stops you, shows you fear. Whereas faith says that you have the ultimate power with you. Doubt shows you the defeat of the past. Whereas faith makes you feel the victory of the future.

If you will leave the dust of doubt and catches the echo of faith then you fully adopt then your steps become steadfast. Then divinity descends in your actions. Then your words also become strength. And the greatest thing is that I (the Universe) in accordance with your faith, opens the way for you. Because faith is not just a feeling it is an energy that influences the universe(me) and when this energy stabilizes then your life is not just a struggle but a journey where at every step you receive God's blessing.

“I told you all my rules and this is it. If you will adopt them in your life then understand that no power can defeat you. No darkness can surround you because behind you the existence itself will be there.

I am not your enemy, I am your companion. Just follow these rules and I will give you whatever you want in your life and never let you down. Every darkness of your life will turn into light.

“I will follow the rules, follow the light of faith.....” I said.

KARMA

Everyone is in hurry to move forward. When will I be successful? When will my life change? We want to grow fast, we want to learn fast. So, what happens there is, the speed of learning decreases.

Like you must have heard, that even the Gods yearn to have a human birth. They yearn to have a human birth, means they want to come to this world. And why do they want to come here as humans? Because the rest of the yonis, like the yonis of animals, they are only for enjoyment.

And the Gods, who yearn to have a human birth, they are also for the enjoyment of the Gods. They are just enjoying. The animals are also just enjoying.

The animals do not have any karma but the human being, he is creating new karmas, and he is also enjoying his own karma. We create new karmas.

Suppose you think, let's feed the dogs biscuits, let's feed the cows, let's help someone a little, let's serve mom and dad a little, right? So, now whatever you are doing, you are creating this karma.

When you are creating this karma? When you are doing it for others. So, we can also create new karmas.

Why did we choose to come here? We chose to come here because the progress here is fast on earth. Where we have come from, it is slow there. I will tell you this with proof.

And this thing, which I am going to tell you today, I have been looking for this myself for the last 2-3 months. And there was a reason behind it.

Something happened to me. And one thing with me is that I get behind the solution. What is the solution? Why did this happen to me? How did this thing happen to me? Okay? Because there is learning.

Now, we are able to do learning only when our focus is not only on the problem, not only on the complaint, that something bad happened to me. No, if this happened to me, then there must have been some reason behind it. Maybe the divine souls who protect us, whether it is God, or our ancestors, or the universe, whatever it is, they want to give us some indication.

So, I have been looking for it for a long time. And finally, like God gives you answers through a person, through a book, through you, maybe he will teach you something written, maybe he will tell you something. Similarly, I got the answer.

And I thought of sharing it with you because, we have come to this earth. So, we don't have to do only our good.

If we do good for others, then it will be good for us. If we do good, then it will be good for us. So, my objective is that if I come to know something, then the more I can spread it, the more people I can reach, then it will be beneficial for me.

And it is not about the benefit. It is about the purpose of my life.

As many people say, we are so good, so good, but still, bad things happen to us. But, those who are so bad, they do such bad things, they loot money, they do illegal things, so, such things never happen to them. So, let me explain it to you in detail.

What happens is, there are two types of souls. One is a good soul, and one is a bad soul.

So, this good soul, her unconscious mind, why is it good? Because her unconscious mind is awake. That is why it is good.

She feels compassion. She can't see anyone's bad side. She can never do anyone's bad side.

This soul will die of hunger, but she won't do anyone's bad. And there is this soul, whose unconscious mind is not awake. So, she doesn't have to understand.

So, what does this soul do? It does all the bad deeds, like looting someone's money. I mean, you must have seen some people who do bad things. They put money in a scheme, loot people, or do bad things.

Like we see corruption. They put this much money here, and that much money there. These are the souls, whose unconscious mind is not awake.

So, they don't have to understand that what I am doing is wrong. Now, the good souls, what happens with them is, if they do something wrong, even with me, I mean, if I do something wrong, immediately, I will be slapped. This is an experience.

And this happened a while ago, so I found the answer to it. I found a lot of things while searching. And I found a very good thing.

When we do bad deeds, we get the result of it immediately. We get the punishment immediately.

Now, if we get the punishment, it is not that God wants to do bad to us. No.

You did a bad deed. You will not get punish for it. You did another bad deed.

The person who is doing a bad deed, is called a bad karma.

Other one is, he did corruption. There is nothing to worry about.

And we see, this person is growing. He is moving ahead. Big cars have come.

Big bungalows have been built. Life has become fun. And we, the good souls, are seeing this.

This person is growing. He is growing. He did another corruption.

Their karma keep accumulating. Okay.

They keep accumulating and then, after a while, they get the result of their karma.

All of a sudden, you will say, this is good.

No, this is not good. See how. If there is a good soul, then what will happen with him? As soon as he does something wrong, his mind will become sad.

His mind will start troubling him. Something will happen. So he will be afraid that I don't want to do anything wrong.

So, what will happen with him? He will save a lot of time. And he will start believing in God.

He will move forward in his spiritual journey because we have come here. This is the reality.

We have come to this world because of this. There is nothing else to do here. With this man, as much as he is not getting the result of his karma, he is getting stored.

So he feels that there is nothing to worry about. Everything is about fooling people. He is fooling himself no other. He will understand soon. One day he has no energy for work and loot at the age of 60-70 then God will give his purpose. God will make realize him about his karma and he will be in trouble and then for peace he will donate all the loot money to poor people. This is the way when God use to balance people karma.

When God puts us in trouble, when we face a problem, then what do we do? We go to God. We start chanting God's name. We read Bhagavad Gita.

We started chant mantra. By doing this, we are able to experience what has happened to us.

We are able to relate to it. It is a simple thing. It is my work that because I know that I am not doing this but in actual God is making me do this. This is my work. I am not even worried about what you will think about this.

You will think that this women is talking nonsense. It does not matter to me because everyone's consciousness is different.

I am telling you what I understand.

Suppose a person moves forward in his spiritual journey. So, what did he do in his life for 75 years? He enjoyed it. In the end, he got the fruit of his deeds.

This can also happen. He did not get it in this life.

And one who enjoyed it completely. You also got lost in this. This man did bad deeds all his life and, look, he got a good life. He had a big car, a big house. look, he enjoyed it.

But, it is not that he will not get his deeds now. All these are accumulated. All these are stored.

All these will come in the future. They will come in the next birth. What happens with us is that we will get it immediately.

Now, the benefit of getting it immediately is that we can with any excuse. Like, it is said that plant should play the reed or the seed. I cannot remember whether the seed should be upside down or straight, or any other way.

So, it becomes a plant. It means that even if you play the reed with fear, even if you play it with love, even if you have a problem, you should play it to get rid of it. Or, you should play it for pleasure.

You can play it in any other way. Plant should play the reed or the seed so, in that way like.

In that way, you can play the reed with fear, or the seed becomes a plant. So, like that, God blesses us that we get bad things immediately. It is not bad, it is good.

So, we gradually understand things and in our spiritual journey, for which we came to this world, we move ahead.

A few moments ago, an incident happened with me. And I was very worried, I thought what is happening with me. However, I understood that there is something behind this, God wants to teach something.

There is something, I was just looking for it. Because somewhere we are very good, we are walking on a good path, we don't do anything bad to anyone. Many times, a person's intention gets spoiled, he does something wrong, anything can happen.

So, if you are good, I mean, the one who shows is not good, the one who shows to people is not good. You know from inside that I have never done anything bad to anyone, and I will not do it, and I don't want to do it, I can't do it. Your soul knows, I am not talking about showing off that I am good, what will happen? Suppose I tell the whole world, see brothers and sisters, how good I am, what will I get from this? I will get benefit when my God sees me, and when my inner soul sees me.

So, if you are good, a good soul, then what will happen is, as soon as you go to do something wrong, immediately, as I said, one slap will fall from above. So, assume that something has gone wrong, and I have to be careful because God is very careful.

He doesn't want you to take his support and do anything wrong. You are a good soul that is why your deeds reach you fast. Because your conscious mind is awake. This means that if you do a little wrong, then you will get the result of your deeds immediately, and you will be able to pay for it soon.

But if your conscious mind is awake, then your deeds start accumulating. Like you say, these people are doing so much corruption, they are doing so many bad deeds, nothing is happening with them, they are doing more mischief. Now, I will tell you about that mischief.

What is mischief?

With time, anyway, in some way or the other, your deeds will definitely reach you. The person who is doing bad, his deeds will reach in the next life, anytime.

The person does a lot of wrong things, and in the end, what happens to him, you can see for yourself.

Do not think that evil souls have the freedom to do bad. Their deeds are accumulating, they will have to pay for it. Now, I will tell you one more thing in this.

When you are spiritually awake, If your conscious mind is free means it is asleep, right? For this reason, for your spiritual development, you are always deprived of your test and training.

Your training, why have we come to this world? We have come here for training. As I said, we were sitting in the Karma bhoomi. But what happens there? The speed of progress is slow.

So, this is the place where the speed is fast. So, do not take too much load from here. Okay? Focus on the work you have come to do.

And it will be able to give you what your conscious mind is awake for. If your conscious mind is free, then it will be stuck in the world that it will feel that the enjoyment I am enjoying is only this life. I just want to get this food, I just want to get this, I just want to get this boy, I just want to get this girl.

Apart from this, the house, car, wealth, bungalow that comes to me, apart from that, it is not doing anything. It is only accumulating in that.

You do all this. You buy a car, buy a very big car, buy a bungalow worth 2-5 crore, buy a bungalow worth 100 crore, do whatever you want to do in the world, apart from the wrong things, apart from the unethical things. I am not saying that do anything unethical.

Not unethical, you have to go by the rules. What is against the scriptures, then it becomes a wrong deed. You do whatever you want to do honestly, there is nothing wrong in that.

But do not forget the work for which you have come. Do not forget that. You sit in a car worth 5 crore and do the work for which you have come from above.

You think, if a person's unconscious mind is free, then he is doing corruption, he is not even aware why I am here, he feels this is the city. Also, you will never be able to find out the purpose and contribution of your spiritual life on Earth. When you are not on the spiritual path, then you use your own free will to divert yourself from that path which you have chosen in the Karma bhoomi.

You do not encounter such situations and people who are needed for the protection of your soul.

When you are not able to face such situations and such people who are necessary for the training of your soul, instead of this, you listen to such situations.

You meet such people who nourish your ego. And make you a completely materialistic and materialistic person. Then you forget the importance of your soul.

Your soul's nourishment is completely lost. And you start living happily in that state. But this happiness is a deception.

This sacrificial soul is coming. Yes, it is a complete creation of the physical mind. Some people move away from the spiritual path and experience comfort on the earth.

Like you see, there are some people who are not spiritual. Spirituality means religion is different. It is not just a matter of worship.

Spirituality is to know yourself. Who am I? What am I doing here? The man who is in the journey of knowing himself, he is not in this worldly life.

Why am I getting stuck? This is happening there. This is happening here. What happened in that country?

He knows that all this is a game of illusion. He is only concerned about his journey. What am I doing? He knows that this will continue.

This has been going on for centuries. Everything is happening. War is happening.

People are doing this. This is happening.

Everything is happening. This will continue. It will not end like this.

What do you think? That things will stop? This will continue. The living beings are satisfied with the experience of false peace in their mind. Because they do not have to go through the struggle of change and improvement. They do not want to choose the right way to solve their problems.

And they choose the easy way to get rid of them. This false experience of peace is given to you by your ego because it does not want to be destroyed by humans.

Those people who believe that if there is any problem in life, then you come to your journey through that problem. Otherwise, you cannot come. Then a person enjoys.

He thinks that he has to do this only. He has to earn, eat, enjoy and sleep. But your time is wasted because you have made a lot of efforts here.

On this earth, I have come here. But I have not come here just like that. I must have given a test.

So, when I have given a test and I have come here, it does not mean that I have to stay here.

There is a limited time here. The sad place is eternal. The sad place means that there will be problems here.

A person is running after happiness. You get happiness?

You never get it. You don't have to run after happiness. You will get happiness when you have to get it.

CHAPTER- 3

FAR AWAY FROM HOME, FAMILY AND LOVE

“I feel so alone. You’ve explained this to me before but sometimes it hurts deeply to think that I belong neither at home nor out in the world...”

“You are special—I know that. I chose you, no one else did. Don’t worry about what others think, your solitude is not a punishment, it is a blessing.

You think you are ordinary, but the truth is that there is a spark within you which I kept in my palm. Your soul has that unique power which is not found in anyone else. Perhaps you have seen many times in the mirror and thought what is so special about your face. What is so different in your life? But the truth is that every tear, every smile and every broken moment is also invaluable for me because I have chosen you from the ordinary crowd and made you special. That is why when you fall, I lift you up, when you are alone, it becomes invisible support around you. When you are about to give up then suddenly a new path comes in front of you. This is not a coincidence this was all my plan, my conspiracy to remind you that you are my choice.

Think, how many times have your life gone through such turns where you thought everything is over but still suddenly a ray burst, a helping hand extended, a door opened and you stood up again. It was not your own strength; it was the lap of mine (the Universe) that did not let you fall. You think that no one knows your pain, your loneliness, your pain but the truth is that every time you have cried on your bed quietly, every time you have prayed for others without saying anything, every time you have broken yourself and taken care of someone else, I seen that every moment and have embraced you in its infinite compassion.

Time has come for you to know your true identity. Now the time has come for you to understand that you are my choice. Do you remember how many times you were ignored, how many times people called your good heart weakness, but you never let your inner love die. This is your greatest strength. Where people choose hatred, you chose love. Where people accept defeat, you dared to get up again. Where people break and fall apart, you made your soul stronger. This is the reason why I the universe see you different from everyone else.

You soul, you are my most beautiful creature and my favorite. Now think about how your life will be in the coming days when I am making ways for you.

Where other people will knock on the door and they will not get an answer, the doors will open for you. Where people will say that this is impossible, the same thing will become easy for you. People will say how lucky you are but they will not know that this is not fate, this is a gift, this is the fruit of your good deeds, this is the secret promise of the me (Universe) which I made to your soul at the time of birth. Remember how many times you thought that your prayers are lost somewhere, your dreams are broken but the truth is that every prayer, every effort and every tear has created waves in me (the Universe).

These waves are now returning to you like the waves of the sea. What you have given to others is now going to return to you many times. Now it is time for you to open your heart and come into receiving mode because miracles are knocking on your door.”

“I am open to receive new blessings Universe.”

Suddenly the people who were ignoring you will start looking for you. Suddenly the circumstances that came to break you will start making you. Your story is not over yet. The real story is starting now. This is the chapter where your soul will shine in its true light. The shine in your eyes is not ordinary. The peace in your words is priceless.

“Some people have said that there is healing in your very words.”

Ring bell in ear..... “I can feel you Universe.....”

“Yes, the hope that people get from your presence, you may not see it yourself, but I know everything. This is the reason that now it is going to give you its most special gift. Remember that your prayers never went in vain, your hard work never went in vain. Every tear has strengthened your soul. Every pain has made you more special.

And now when you feel that you are very tired, alone, now when you feel that you have endured a lot then understand that this is the moment when I am going to show miracles in your life. Now the sun will be brighter for you, the sky will be more open, the roads will be easier for you because you are the soul that has the first choice. So dear soul, whenever you get tired, whenever you start breaking, just look at the sky and tell yourself that I am the choice of the Universe.

And the moment you see, a new power will awaken inside you. The same power that will take you out of every darkness, the same power that will take you to where you always wanted to be.

Your wounds will become the crown of your identity and your tears will bear witness to your victory. Think, once if you had not been so broken then you would not have become so strong.

If you had not seen the darkness then how would you have understood the value of light? If you had not suffered betrayal, loneliness and failure then how would your soul be so pure and deep today? This is the reason that I have chosen you. I do not make any soul my choice without testing. And you are that soul that I have been tested again and again, fell again and again, broke again and again, but stood up every time.

This is what makes you different from everyone else. Now that time is coming when you will get the answer to every question of your life. The question that you asked the sky at night, why me, why me, now the answer will be in front of you. And the answer will be that because you are special because the rules are different for you, because the destination has been written for you that is not for others. You are the one whom the darkness did not touch, whom the storms brought down, but did not take up arms. This is the reason that now that moment is going to come in front of you, when everything will change.

You will see that suddenly the things you had dreamt of, they have become your reality. Suddenly people will say, how is this possible? They will not understand that all this is the result of your hard work and your deeds, and most of all is the blessing of mine.”

“Crying..... !!! Thank you Universe for giving me a lot of blessings.”

“When you kept praying for others, when you yourself needed help, then you proved that your heart is true. And this truth is now bringing a miracle for you

“People used to think that my goodness is my weakness.”

“Your goodness is not a weakness, but it is your biggest weapon. When the rest of the people have drowned in hatred, you are walking for the light of love. And this is the reason that now life is going to change for you. You may feel that all this is a big claim but think how many times it has happened that when you thought of giving up, the situation suddenly changed. How many times you thought that there is no way and suddenly hope came from somewhere. All this was not a coincidence, it was all my plan.

“I believe in you and will believe for my rest of life, You are my everything.....”

“You will see signs in the coming days. Suddenly you will get such opportunities that you never even thought about. Suddenly such people will come into your life who will help you reach your destination. Suddenly your soul will feel peace and strength. All this will happen because now it is time to give you all that you deserve. Remember, I the Universe never leaves my choice empty-handed. If you have to wait till now then because what is written for you is not ordinary, but extraordinary. I will give you what will elevate your soul, which will give your life a new form, which will make you meet your true identity. And when all this happens, you will say to yourself, yes, I really like the Universe.

“I love you, I like you, you are my ultimate truth.....”

“Do you know that when you cried for the first time, not only your parents, but the whole sky was rumbling. Along with your birth, a new wave in the air, a new shine in the stars and a new energy descended on the earth. That day I smiled and said; this soul is not ordinary, this is my choice. And since then, at every step, it has seen you, understood you and has taken care of you, even if you have ever felt that you are alone. All the pages written in the book of your life, every page is a testimony of how strong you are.

When the circumstances came to break you, you broke down and joined yourself. . When people left you, you also embraced emptiness. . When dreams were shattered, you made room for new dreams. And this quality is only in those souls who are chosen by me because easy life does not make anyone special, but difficulties draw you like a shining diamond. Think, if you had not suffered that pain, how would your words have been so deep today? If you had not known that loneliness, how would you have got this wonderful boon to understand the pain of others? If you had not broken down and stood up again, how would the world know what true strength is? This is the reason that now every pain of your life, every wound, every tear has become a boon for you.”

“Yapp Universe, I love you my father.”

“I will also let you meet with your family and you will also get married but I want to keep you alone for now so that you can live in the form of serving and living in the energy of the priest from the time you got the contract.

“Okay Uni.....”

“Many times you come to me and ask this question, O God, why am I so alone? Why does no one understand me? The one whom I accept from my heart, whom I trust, why does he deceive me? My children, you feel that when there is no one to understand you then for whom do you change yourself? For whom do you dream? By getting entangled in these questions, you start to stray from your path, you start to get away from your deeds. And you think when I have no one in this world then why should I do something for someone? Why should I think good for someone? But my children have you been born only for the people of this world? Have you been born only to make others happy or to think about them? No, my children, you have been born with a special purpose. To complete your deeds, your dreams and the journey of your soul, the human life that you have got, you have got it after a lot of difficulties.

It is not because of anyone else but because of the good deeds of your past lives and the call of your soul. Then why do you want to waste it by getting entangled in other people's thoughts and behavior? Remember, the direction of your life depends on your thoughts and deeds. That is why do not make your thoughts small.

Do not leave your dreams because of someone's words or deceit. Make your goal so big that there is no space left for the taunts and deceit of the world. When your goal will be big then these small things, small troubles, will not bother you. I won't let you lose; you are incredibly precious to me.

There will be no shortage of life. You will get success in everything. Wherever you go, you will get victory.

You will get light from all direction. There are two options in front of you in life. Both are very beneficial. Don't listen to anyone else.

“Okay God, Okay Universe....”

“I know you have endured a lot; your ordeal is over now. Now you have the divine ability to get rid of all attempts of negativity. It is my grace that your life should be filled with stability and contentment. Recognize this power within you and move forward on your path, fearing my blessings.

“Yapp I will move forward with fearless, I will not stop, I am going to do Lightworker shows and will tell everyone about God and you Universe in modern way.”

“And I am giving you Divine checklist you will successful in your Lightworker show..... You can do whatever you want to do, you are very powerful. You have now recognized those people who have a feeling of hatred and deceit against you. These people are trying to weaken you by setting up conspiracies and false accusations behind your back. But now you have begun to face their wickedness with fear.

And this is what is making them unbearable. The blessings of me is with you and you have overcome all kinds of negativity in this time. It is necessary that you keep these people away from your life and feelings.

Surrender your energy to God and keep yourself safe from any kind of negativity. This path is safe for you. Accept all difficulties. Use your innate quality to heal the humanity,” “Okay Universe.” I am writing a song which name is “I will heal you on God’s behalf”.

“The truthfulness, hard work and positive energy of your soul have brought you out of the darkness that was spread all around you. You are now moving towards heights. And this peace and light is not being tolerated by your enemies.

“I am ready for my new transformation of life, high five Universe. Give me a hug, I Love you my heavenly father.”

ISOLATION

I AM GOING TO TELL YOU MY ISOLATION EXPERIENCE

“You don't need another place, you need to see your place differently. I learned that the hard way, not in a quiet season, but in years of moving too fast, saying yes too quickly, filling my days so I wouldn't have to sit still long enough to see what was wrong. I remember one night, keys still in my hand, standing by the door, not even sure why I had gone out again.

When the Universe intends to elevate you, He will isolate you setting you apart from everyone else so that your karma can be balanced. This ensures that neither can you speak ill of anyone, nor can anyone cause you harm. It is in this isolation that God and the Universe are closest to you; they protect and guide you, motivating you to live as your authentic self.

So I was telling you..... yes nothing was waiting for me, I just didn't want to be in the house. That kind of living costs you more than you think, not all at once. It takes your clarity first, then your focus, then your sense of direction starts slipping and you don't even notice when it happens.

I made decisions in that state, good-looking decisions, reasonable ones but they weren't aligned. And I paid for that later, with time I couldn't get back, with responsibilities I shouldn't have taken on, with a kind of quiet confusion that stayed longer than it should have. No one saw that part, on the outside it looked like movement, on the inside things were thinning out.

I didn't understand then that God was not asking me to go find something, He was trying to get me to stay long enough for Him to deal with what was already there. God said; when you pray go into your room, close the door, not go out and not look around. I avoided that for a long time, because when the door closes there's no distraction left, no noise to lean on, no movement to hide behind, just you and whatever is actually in your heart.

And that is where God starts working, not in the places where everything feels active, in the places where everything feels exposed. I used to think staying home meant I was falling behind, that if nothing was happening around me then nothing was happening at all. I was wrong, some of the most necessary work God has ever done in my life happened in rooms no one else entered, in days that didn't look important, in stretches of time that felt slow and unproductive.

But that was where things changed, not loudly, not quickly, but deeply enough that when I finally stepped forward again I wasn't the same person who had been running around before. So I'm not telling you something I read, I'm telling you something I had to learn after wasting time I can't recover. The place you keep trying to move past might be the place God is waiting to deal with you.

Home, is where God forms what the world cannot see. God is not in a hurry to put you in front of people, He is working on what you are when no one is there. I used to think readiness would feel obvious, like a moment, a clear signal, something that confirmed I was prepared, it didn't happen that way.

What I got instead were long stretches of ordinary days that didn't look like they were leading anywhere, that's where the real work was happening. At home there is nothing to perform, no one to impress, no reason to hold a version of yourself together, what is there is what is real. And God works with what is real not what is presented, you find out quickly what has substance and what doesn't, how you think when no one is correcting you, how you use your time when no one is asking anything from you, whether you can stay consistent without pressure.

Those things expose more than any public moment ever will. I've had seasons where I looked steady around people but at home my discipline was weak, my attention was scattered. I could talk clearly but I wasn't living with the same clarity which I live today)

That gap does not stay hidden forever, it shows up later, under pressure, that's how collapse happens. Not suddenly but because something was never built properly in the first place.

It was Jamvant who reminded Hanuman Ji of his power; it was not that he lacked strength; He was already powerful, but simply unaware of it. When Lord Ram needed him, he was reminded of his might. Similarly, you too possess inherent strength, but you need someone to awaken it, someone whom God will send into your life.

But God said in Geeta, the Lord looks at the heart, that heart wasn't formed in a moment, it was formed in the field, in routine, in responsibility that no one thought was important. Hanuman didn't become strong when he faced lanka thing, he was already strong, the fight only revealed what had been built before anyone was watching. That's what home does, if you let it.

It removes the illusion that growth is public, it forces you to deal with what you actually are, not what you appear to be. And that process is not comfortable, it is slow. It can feel repetitive sometimes it feels like nothing is changing.

But things are changing, just not in a way that can be seen yet. What God builds in secret is what stands in public; I've seen the other side of it, people stepping into something visible without that foundation. It looks strong for a while, then pressure comes and what was never formed properly starts to crack.

God is not trying to delay you. He is trying to make sure you don't break under what you are asking for. If He is keeping you in a place that feels small, it is not because your life is small, it is because the work He is doing right now cannot be rushed, and most of that work happens where no one is looking. You are not missing out, you are being set apart.

I used to think I was being left behind, other people were moving, building, connecting, I could see it, and I felt like I was standing still watching time pass, it didn't feel spiritual, it felt like loss. But I was measuring the wrong thing. In Geeta the Lord says: Come out from among them and be separate.

I didn't understand that at first, I thought separation meant distance without purpose, it doesn't. It means God is drawing a line around your life for a reason, there are environments that shape you quietly, you don't notice it while you're in them. But your thinking shifts, your standards soften.

A woman who lives in drama will pull you into a cycle you didn't create, but will eventually feel responsible to manage. I stayed in some of those spaces longer than I should have, conversations that pulled me sideways, expectations that made me compromise small things, nothing extreme, just enough to blur what I knew was right. That cost me clarity, and once clarity goes, decisions start getting heavier.

You second guess what should be simple, you hesitate where you should be steady. It takes time to recover that. God will pull you out of those environments not to isolate you but to reset you.

It can feel uncomfortable, quieter than you want, slower than you expect. You start thinking you're missing something you're not. You're being kept from what would interfere with what God is doing in you.

The world moves fast, always something happening, always somewhere to be, but most of it is noise. Not all of it is wrong, but a lot of it is unnecessary. God doesn't compete with that, he calls you out of it, and when he does it doesn't always feel significant, it just feels different, less crowded, less stimulating.

But that's where your mind clears, that's where your convictions come back into place, that's where you start to recognize what matters again. I had to learn to stop filling every quiet space, to stop reaching for something just because it was available. That habit took time to break.

But once it broke, things became simpler, not easier, clearer. If God has reduced what's around you, don't rush to replace it. There's a reason he removed it.

God often speaks clearest in quiet places. God has never struggled to speak. The problem has always been my attention.

I used to think I needed something clearer, something stronger, some kind of unmistakable direction. But the issue wasn't that God wasn't speaking, it was that my life was too full to notice. Noise doesn't have to be loud to interfere; it just has to be constant.

I filled my days without thinking. Background noise, constant checking, always something playing, something moving, it kept me occupied but it also kept me dull. My thoughts never settled long enough to recognize what was actually true.

Buddha left his house for searching God and searching about His purpose. Everything came but God was not in it, then a still small voice.

That's where God chose to be heard. I missed that for a long time because I kept expecting something louder than my surroundings, but God was speaking underneath it all. I just wasn't quite enough to hear it.

After awakening I remember one evening, nothing planned, no urgency, I set my phone down on the corner of the table and didn't pick it back up. The room was still, no sound, no distraction. At first it felt empty, then something settled, a thought came up, not rushed, not forced, clear, direct.

It wasn't new information, it was something I already knew but had been avoiding. And in that moment it was obvious, that's what quiet does, it brings things into focus that noise keeps hidden. Staying home gives you that space, not automatically but if you stop filling it, God doesn't compete for your attention, he waits for it.

And if your attention is always divided you will keep asking for guidance while ignoring what has already been said. You don't need God to speak louder, you need your life to be quieter. Staying Home breaks the Addiction to Constant Stimulation I didn't realize how dependent I had become on stimulation until it was taken away.

Not big things, small ones, checking my phone without thinking, filling silence with anything, moving from one thing to the next so I wouldn't have to sit with stillness. It felt normal, it wasn't. It made me impatient, restless, unable to stay with one thought long enough to understand it.

And that carries over into your spiritual life. You start treating time with God the same way, short, distracted, easily interrupted. That command exposes something. If you cannot be still then you do not know God the way you think you do. Not because He is distant but because you are unsettled.

Stillness is not empty, it is where things become clear. But you have to stay long enough for that to happen. At first it feels unproductive.

You sit there and your mind runs, you feel the urge to reach for something, anything to fill the space. That urge tells you how trained you've become to avoid stillness. I had to sit through that, moments where nothing was happening on the outside, but inside there was resistance.

I wanted to move, to check something, to break the silence. But I stayed, and slowly that pressure started to lift. My thoughts became more ordered, my attention stayed longer, Angels didn't feel rushed, it settled.

If you cannot sit still, you cannot hear clearly. Staying home removes a lot of your usual distractions. It shows you what you've been leaning on without realizing it and it gives you a chance to rebuild your attention.

You don't need more input, you need space for what is already there to come into focus. Your home can become a place of strength, not escape. I used to treat home like a place to shut off, not a place to be built up.

I would come back tired, sit down and drift. Not resting, just disengaging. Time would pass but nothing in me was being restored.

I was avoiding, not recovering. There's a difference. In Verse 16 it says, He would withdraw to desolate places and pray.

That's when I understood, home can either drain you or develop you. It depends on what you do with it. If you walk into your home without intention it will absorb your time and give you nothing back, but if you walk into it with purpose, even something simple, it starts to shape you.

You don't need dramatic moments, you need consistent ones. Coming back to the same place, choosing to focus, choosing to return to God when nothing feels urgent that builds something steady in you. Strength doesn't come from intensity, it comes from repetition that is aligned, and that kind of strength is quiet.

But it holds. Your home is not the problem, how you live in it is. God trains you in the ordinary before trusting you with more I used to overlook the small things, not intentionally, I just didn't think they mattered that much.

I thought growth would show up in bigger moments, clear opportunities and visible steps forward. But most of my life was not made of those moments. It was made of ordinary days. And I wasn't handling them well.

I had time but I didn't use it well, I had responsibilities but I treated them lightly. I was waiting for something more significant while mishandling what was already in front of me. That cost me, not immediately, but later, when more was required, I wasn't ready.

My habits weren't strong enough, my attention wasn't steady. I had to go back and rebuild what should have been established earlier. That's the part people don't talk about.

You don't just lose time, you create delays that didn't need to exist. God trains you in the ordinary because that's where your patterns are formed. How you start your day, what you return to when you're not being watched, whether you follow through on simple things, these are not small in God's eyes, they are indicators.

Daily discipline is not about being rigid, it's about being reliable. Can you be trusted with a quiet day? Can you stay consistent when nothing is forcing you to? That's what I had to learn, not through teaching but through correction, repeating days, fixing habits, letting God deal with things I had ignored because they didn't look important. If you neglect the small space you live in, you will mishandle the larger space you want.

That's not a warning to scare you, it's a reality to ground you. God is not holding back more from you to frustrate you, He is making sure that when it comes, it doesn't expose what hasn't been built. And most of that building happens in days that don't stand out.

That's where trust is formed. Not every door needs to be walked through. I used to think an open door meant I should go through it.

If it made sense, if it looked right, if nothing was clearly wrong, I said yes. I didn't call it impulsive, I called it being open but I wasn't discerning. I was just available. That led me into things I didn't need to carry.

Not everything that presents itself is part of that order, some things are just options. And options can distract you just as much as mistakes can. I remember turning down something that looked good, people I respected, an opportunity that could have led somewhere.

Later it became clear, that good opportunity would have drained more than it gave, it would have pulled me away from what God was already establishing.

Not every door needs to be walked through. Some doors test your clarity. Discernment is not just about recognizing what is wrong.

It is about recognizing what is not for you, even if it looks right. Choosing to stay can feel like you are doing nothing, it can feel like hesitation. But if that choice is rooted in obedience, it is not hesitation, it is alignment.

You don't need to prove anything by moving quickly, you need to remain where God has placed you until he makes the next step clear. Because when your steps are ordered, you are not chasing opportunities, you are following direction.

Stay where God can shape you without distraction. I used to think staying meant I was stuck. Now I know it meant I was being positioned.

There is a difference. I didn't see it until I had already spent time trying to move ahead of God. I pushed into things early, took on what looked right, forced movement when I should have stayed, it didn't break everything at once, it just made everything harder than it needed to be.

God does not rush formation, we do. We get uncomfortable with slow work, we want signs, movement, confirmation that something is happening. But God is not concerned with how it looks, he is concerned with what is being built and what is being built in you right now, if you stay with it, is not temporary, it will hold.

So stop treating this season like a delay. It is not a pause in your life, it is part of it, honor where you are. Not because it feels significant, but because God is working there.

In your routine, in your quiet, in the things no one else sees. You don't need to make it bigger; you need to stay present in it. I had to learn to stop reaching for what was next while neglecting what was in front of me.

That habit cost me time, it cost me clarity, and I had to go back and let God rebuild things I should have allowed him to finish the first time. You don't have to repeat that. If God has you where you are, stay there long enough for him to complete what he started.

So stay, not out of fear, out of trust. Stay where your life is being shaped without distraction, because when it is time to move you won't have to force it. You will be ready, and you will know.

GOD'S FAVOURITE CHILD

Do you feel that God has given you that blessing, that guidance in your life that makes you different from others? Today these signs will give you the clarity that you are God's favourite child, whom God has chosen.

The first point is that you have struggled a lot in your life, but still you take this stand and again.

God's favourite child's life is not easy at all. He has so many problems in his life, whether it is of his family or in his love relationship or in his friend circle. Everywhere he has to go through a different kind of struggle.

His life is not easy. Where people give up, in the same situation, they take a stand again and again in their life. The more problems he has in his life, the more strong personality he is.

As and when every situation comes, according to that situation, he becomes stronger, more knowledgeable. And this is done because God can only guide you when you do not live a normal life. When you go through a lot of ups and downs in your life, then God's grace also comes in your life.

Why? Because in your internal self, your intention, your inner voice is so pure that you do not make yourself like those people who live with a lot of corruption, a lot of lies, a lot of manipulation. God's favorite child's life has a lot of problems. But God makes them so strong internally that where people give up, you will see your past life.

You took a stand where people find their life negative. You were still standing. And every time you are made to stand again so that you can become what God wants to make you.

He wants to take you where you should actually be. You should be in the position that God wants you to be. And this is not easy.

God's favorite child has a lot of problems in his life. His family does not understand him. He will get a toxic job.

He will get a toxic environment there. Or he will have to struggle a lot in his job. There may be health issues.

But again, the courage to fight back and stand up is God's very special child. He has that strength in him that he stands up again and again and today he is in a place where he is only thanking God for his gratitude. If that situation had not happened, you would not be who you are today.

This is very special and unique in people who do not give up in negativity or any situation. Because they have that strength from that white light that God wants you to deserve it. You deserve to come out of this situation.

Because the faith and hope that you generate in yourself is because of God's grace. The second point is that you always feel different from others. That means you are not attracted to the things that people are running after.

When people are jealous of each other, when they are running from each other in competition, that thing does not make you feel attracted. That means if you are God's favorite child, then your life will not be easy. But someday you will feel, you will have an internal calling that why am I on this earth? What is my purpose? Where do I want to go? What is my existence? This question will come to you very strongly.

And if this is the case, then God is giving you that self-realization that you have always been different from the crowd. That is why your life will not be easy. With a lot of struggle, with a lot of suffering, after getting up again, when you actually channel your inner self, your inner realization, then this question will come from there that where do you want to go? Why have you come to this earth? What is your purpose? What is the meaning of your life? This big question comes in the life of those people who have come to create something big, who have come to give something to this earth.

And this happens with very few people because people are lost in the crowd. They are not aware of what is going on in their life.

They are in competition, they are copying each other, they are running away.

But if you are one of those people whom God has chosen, then you will definitely have a self-realization that who am I? Why have I come to this earth? What is my purpose? You will not be able to merge in the crowd. You will not be able to be a part of that crowd because you are not a part of that crowd. That is why you are not able to connect with that crowd.

You are not able to feel that I have to copy it or I don't have to copy it. You are the one who people will bring changes in their life, will bring changes in their thought process. If this is the case, then you are God's favorite child, who has a big purpose, who has come to create something big.

The third point is that your intuition is always right. If you have God's blessings, His guidance, then through your intuition, He guides you in your life. A person who you feel is not right, you should stay away from this person.

God guides you through your inner soul. And whenever you take decisions through your intuition, or the person whom you had doubted that this person is not right, actually the end result is the same.

God guides His favorite child through His guidance in their internal world. So whenever you get an intuition that you feel that this person is not right, I should take this decision. Then you will see that in your life, the same things start happening that you got guidance internally.

And if this is the case, then never ignore your intuition. Because this is the path through which God talks to you and guides you in your life. The fourth point is that people who are wrong in your life, they get out of your life.

You must have seen that in your life, you must have tried a lot to save a relationship. You must have tried to hold it. But such people take you out of their life.

And it is not because God punishes you. No. This is such a protection of God, that the people who come to your life with wrong intentions, they want to do wrong to you.

At the same time, they will play such a role in your life that it will be in your favor. The same thing will start working according to you in your life. It will start working on your growth.

Because when this happens, you will feel in the beginning that why did you do this to this relationship? You were right, but that person was wrong. That person's intention was not right for you at all, which could have ruined a lot of things in your life. So that's why when you see, as time goes by, you will understand that the things that happened to you, the relationship that broke, the job that was left with you, the friend circle that broke, the people who had a lot of connection with you, they left your life.

Actually, it is a blessing. It is a blessing, and you understand this when some time passes. After that, you understand how important those things were in your life for your growth.

You can understand this then. You can connect those dots, hidden dots, that if this had not happened, my life today would not have been like this. So, a lot of self-realization, deep thoughts start generating in you, that you start understanding why these things are happening.

Why did this person leave my life? There will be pain, there will be suffering because you are attached to the relationship. But they are not right for the growth of your life, that's why they are removed from your life. For your protection, for your safety, for more blessings in your life which can reach you.

Because they are the same people who cannot give you growth, they will not let you move forward. They will become the biggest blockages in your life. But when they leave, the actual blessing will come when you leave them behind and move forward.

And this happens when you have the grace of God, when God chooses that I have to protect this person, because his intention, his energy, his biggest purpose. That's why he is not stuck between small things or such people, which can tie you in your life.

That's why you are left, removed from that place, from that situation, which is not made for you. The fifth point is when you easily feel the pain of others. Yes.

You must have seen that there are many people, who see anyone in pain, and they move forward by seeing him. But you are those people, who can understand his pain even by seeing a stranger. You can feel his pain.

That means, this is such a spiritual gift, which God has given you, because you are very sensitive. You have a lot of empathy, kindness, compassion flows inside you. So here, God gives you a very soft, kind heart, biggest heart, as they say, it can be of those people, because you have the strength to get out of other people's pain.

How to get others out of pain, how to heal them. Your little advice will inspire people. Your voice, your presence will guide people.

That's why you can feel others pain, because you are the person, who is going to work as a light for others, in future. And if you think that, why do I feel the pain of others, then remember, sensitivity is where God blesses them, with this energy, that you have been given this gift, that you will be able to feel the pain of others, when you have this strength inside you, that you can lift them up from their pain, you can heal them, you can guide them. Only then God will give this blessing inside you, because you are God's favorite child, who has endured a lot, who has seen a lot of pain.

In every situation, you have been given a go-through, so that you can understand everyone's pain, you can accept everyone's pain, and you can lift them up, where no one listens to anyone, you can listen to them, you can uplift them, you can guide them. So if this is the case with you, then you are God's favorite child, who has been blessed, with this blessing, which is only inside very selected and few people. The point is, again and again, your life turns towards a new direction.

That means, the things that you choose, the way you think, that doesn't happen. But something new is created. Things that you have not even imagined.

You would have thought, I will do a job, I have this study, I have these goals, I have to achieve them. But that won't happen. Your life will turn out in such a way, that you will have to invest yourself in something else.

And this investment, in your life, will be such a direction, that every time, your life will turn towards a new direction. And which will be very unique, adventurous, full of wisdom, full of knowledge. And these are the things, where a lot of people, in their life, whenever there is a turning point, they earn the biggest achievement of their life, And this happens, when God's grace is there, God's blessings are on you.

Every time, when a new outcome is emerging in your life, or every time, what you think, what you choose, that doesn't happen. A different direction is created. That happens, so that, you can't keep your life stuck at one place.

You are that flow of energy, which God can put in any shape, and you get stuck. This is your biggest beauty that you don't question. You go with the flow.

You surrender. You live in a tendency to learn. You always want to do hard work.

You know that whatever is happening, is not happening against you. It is happening for you. And when you keep doing with this intuition, with this guidance, then you reach the point, where you can see, how much you have been blessed.

No matter how many things have happened, every time things have turned out in a new way but they have been so beautiful, so best, which you can't find in your comfort zone, or in those places which you didn't think of. So, if things change in your life every time, what you think, doesn't happen. So, this is a blessing.

In your life, some different things will happen to reach there, you will be taken out from somewhere. So, be ready for this. Don't think that, if this doesn't happen, then nothing will happen.

If this doesn't happen, then a lot will happen. A lot of good things will happen. With this, you will be able to achieve, a lot of things in your life, there, where your biggest achievement, is awaiting you.

The seventh point is, when you feel peace, If you are one of God's favorite child, then you will never feel lonely. That means, people can't live alone. They need someone, and they depend on someone.

But, those who are God's favorite child, their life is not easy. But, in loneliness, how to enjoy your company, how to feel peace, how to connect with yourself, self-realization, the questions that come, the thoughts that come in your mind, they are so strong, that you can never feel lonely. Because there, a divine guidance, a divine intuition, which is being told to you, it is so strong, that it wants to tell you, that you were never alone.

You were always in my protection, in my guidance. Your life has been designed, according to me, so that you can do, what I want, what God wants. That's why, you never feel lonely.

You don't even feel, that you are alone. You feel, that you have so many things to do. Whether it is research, or work, or in your self-realization, on those questions, you have to think, you have to do thinking, which arise from your inner soul.

So, in loneliness, those who are God's favorite child, they don't feel lonely. Because their relation, with God, with God, is so strong, that they go into their self-realization that what do I want to work on? What do I lack? And, finding your own shortcomings is a very big thing. And, only those people can do this who in their life, even after doing a lot of wrong, have the courage to do right again.

And questioning yourself, finding your own shortcomings, is a very big thing, which not everyone can do. But, you can do it. Because, you are in God's guidance, you are in God's protection.

The eighth point is, when in your life, again and again, the same things happen, which you avoid learning. Yes. In our life, many times, you must have seen, that the same situation is repeated again and again.

But, people are different, things have changed, place has changed, but the condition, the situation, is the same. This is because God wants to teach you some important lessons. And, until you learn, those things repeat again and again.

Whether it is your thinking or your cycle which you are repeating again and again. Your thought process in which you are stuck, that you should deal the relationship like this. Or, you should always become a victim.

Or, you should always spoil others like this. When in your life, things repeat again and again, that means, you have to take those lessons, which you don't want to take.

It will happen again and again in your life. And, until you understand, that why are these things happening in my life? Only then, when you question, and you start working in those things, in your thought process, in yourself, only then things start changing. People start changing, situation changes.

Those things don't repeat. So, if things are repeating again and again in your life, then strongly, you are being taught some lesson, you are being taught some lesson, which you don't want to learn which you are ignoring, which you are taking very lightly and the same thing in your life. That's why, you should learn your lesson very soon.

You should learn your lesson, which is repeating again and again, because there is no growth in your life. Then, the same mind blockages, the same mental health issues are there, which you can't handle.

So, if things are repeating again and again in your life, then God wants you to take that lesson. You should learn those lessons, which He doesn't want you to come in that condition again and again. So, if this is the case in your life, then definitely, you are a child, who is being taught lessons, but you are not learning.

The second point is that, you get a very strong feeling Yes. Whenever you see such a person, who is in a lot of pain, who is suffering, then you strongly have that urge, that you should be able to help that person. You should be able to guide that person.

Somehow, you should be able to bring light in his life. And, if this is the case, then your purpose is that in your life, how much light you can bring you can guide them. You can also bring a spark in their life through anyone.

It depends on your life, where your life journey takes you. Many people do it through NGOs, do healing work, guide others. Life gives them different opportunities which you should definitely serve.

Because you have come to this earth to give. You can't take anything from here. You have to give more than what you take from this earth.

This is actually the purpose of your life. And, when you have a strong urge, that you have to do something, you have a lot of empathy, you are kind, you have a lot this happens because your biggest purpose is that, no matter how it is, whether it is through animals, or through NGOs, or politics, or anything, from any field, you will serve this earth. If you have a strong urge in your life to help, it won't be on a small scale.

That scale will also be such that God will give you a platform, God will give you power, God will give you the courage to serve people.

Through these points, always remember that any person, any child, is not God's favorite or disliked. Because, whenever you God's guided children, because everyone is given a voice, everyone gets everything is given that free will in which you can take God's guidance. But not everyone is able to take it.

Not everyone is able to listen. Because we have lost so much in Maya, that we are not ready to listen to our inner soul.

CHAPTER-4

SEPARATION WAS DIVINE PLAN.

“Everyone's true colors were revealed, regarding home, family, and love so I, your Universe, separated everyone from you.

At the right time, your words will heal people, and at the right time, you will shatter their arrogance and hold up a mirror to them; that is why I have chosen you.

You have chosen to break the pride of Bollywood and the hypocrites who misuse their wealth. After their destiny ended, they received everything and then started misusing their wealth.

All the sorrows, all the worries, all the problems, all the obstacles will be moving away from your life. I am and angels will be leading you forward in your life. We will be opening the way for your success.

Even if you are small like a firefly but your light is shining. So, it is coming in front of people, right?

“Yes right Universe.”

“This thing is here. So, no matter how much you try to hide your light. Your light will not be hidden from you.

It will come in front of people because when a firefly shines in the dark, somewhere far away. Its light can be seen from a distance. There is negativity everywhere. But there is a light.

The light is shining. So, it will be seen in front of people. If suddenly someone is coming in front of you. You have come out of your struggles. And your divinity is coming in front of people. And it is surprising people. People were considering you to be an ordinary person.

They were considering you to be a normal person. But the truth is coming in front of people. You are not an ordinary person. You are a special one. Who is blessed with divine energy like divine has given some powers.

A lot of changes are happening.

And these changes are out of people's thoughts. People's thoughts do not reach here. The kind of changes they are noticing in your life.

So, this thing is seen here. Now, I am seeing this inside you. Earlier, you might have been a very frustrated person.

But now, you have learnt to control things. Earlier, you used to jump in everything. Earlier, there has been a lot of change in you. Now, you face things. Earlier, you were very scared.

Now, you have come to face things. This comes from spiritual energy.

This comes from awakening.

People are talking a lot about you. Where has your fate taken you from? How was your fate earlier? And now, how is your fate?

No doubt, people have been shocked.

No doubt, it was good for you or not. Everyone has their own perception.

Money cannot buy someone's love. You must have seen this thing in life.

Some perceptions are different.

The things that kept you tied in your life like attachment, illusion.

You understood attachment illusion or some kind of fear which was not allowing you to move forward in life which was karmic for you. Basically, there was something in your life which was karma, which was karmic.

Or it was a karmic situation. First of all, I am threw it out of your life. But you were not going to leave it because you were very attached to it. It was very important for you.

I deliberately removed your love, family and toxic people from your life who were becoming a hindrance for your success. Now you are free from the bondage of your karma. You thought your belief in yourself is over.

Where you were not believing in yourself and you took some things very important for yourself. And you felt that this is my life. I don't have anything else. I can't get anything else. I am incapable. You made this thing a tag mark for yourself. I am your Universe and Angel is saying Okay, you are incapable.

Let me show you your potential.

Okay you have forgotten yourself. You have to awaken. It is important to awaken you. It is important to make you feel your potential.

You have become a very co-dependent personality. I will awaken you.

I was snatched from you. Whatever was there in your life literally snatched. There was such a tower moment.

You thought, what happened to me? Why did this tower moment come in my life? My life was going well. You felt that your life was going well but in actual you have to get a lot.

You were not moving forward. You were stuck. When you came to earth, I have written fame life in your life and you got stuck in a small thing.

So I started planning for you. I brings a tower in your life otherwise you will not going to leave it like this.

I tried to awaken you with a lot of things. I tried to tell you a lot of things but you were not ready to listen that is why I Let's work in my own way. So the tower moment came. I Ended your all your relationship with your lover and family.

You had to face the problem.

That person was removed from your life. You weren't able to work on your main purpose because of that; you were wasting your life putting effort into it, which I wrote that for you.

You were destroying a lot of your life. When his time came then that person left your life.

End of things, closer to things but this happened for your good. Because after this sun, It is near you see sunrise.

If you see someone leaving, If you see something collapsing. If you see death or.....Then people will not be able to see this positive energy but you will definitely see this.

Your time has come like the rising of the sun. No one can stop it. No one can do it. If the sun has to rise, then it has to happen. It comes out tearing all the darkness. So I am seeing the rising of the sun in your life which is bringing light in your life.

You are protected by angels. You are cherished by the angels.

You are a wise leader. You are beckoned for others. You are a different person. You are in Durga energy and you will get justice.

You are a beloved child of God, and only good things will happen to you; however, I will first lead you through every situation.

You will receive everything at the divine time, for you have come to teach the world the meaning of surrender.

You are safe and guided; do not think that you are unlucky. I will not let anything bad happen to you, and I will certainly ensure that anyone who wrongs you reaps the consequences of their actions.

I have bestowed divine knowledge upon you, and Mother Saraswati has gifted you the art of writing, enabling you to accomplish everything on your own.

You need not depend on anyone else.

I have brought out the best in you so that you may realize just how capable and knowledgeable you truly are. And whenever there is something you do not understand, I am here to explain it to you; simply sit in meditation whenever you wish to speak with Me.

I have high expectations that you will teach others the true meaning of surrendering to the Divine; I certainly do not want your partner or family—who are not yet spiritually awakened—to lead you astray from your path.

I wish to keep you close, where you can hear My voice; I will not let you get entangled in worldly matters, and should you inadvertently become so, I will ensure you learn the necessary lesson and return to your divine mission.

This isn't a punishment; I did this so you could hear the voice of your inner self once again.

I know you are troubled, but I am sending you healing energy so that you may heal.

First, fulfill your mission, live in alignment with your Higher Self, and heal others; then, you will receive everything I once showed you on this earth.

This means you will find love and have a family—you will have it all—but this comes from living as your higher self.

You are very lucky that you do know that what is your purpose of life so do not waste your life in matters of unawaken people.

Have faith I have lift you as always and will give you everything you deserve, just walk in faith and keep in touch with me. I love you dear soul.

“Yapp Universe I am all yours, please use me as you want. I love you too.”

PEOPLE USE TO HATE ME

“Most people hate me; whenever I make videos that hold up a mirror to reality, I end up making so many enemies. Whether I speak out against orthodox, hypocritical priests and sadhus, or the sinners of Bollywood, everyone turns into my enemy.

Sometimes, just thinking about it makes it hard to even breathe.”

“They are afraid of their own reflection because they are turning into enemies... You might feel that you are doing everything; no, it is Me who is making it all happen. Keep moving forward.

“Yes I will keep moving, please protect me from people.”

Something is going to happen to you suddenly. It will be beyond your imagination. It will be so fast that you will not believe it.

You just have to save your attention from getting lost. You have to focus on the purpose of your heart.

And yes, if you are feeling a little restless or your mind is changing then be a little careful because I am seeing that your energy is increasing very fast. Maybe you were in a little less energy before, but now your energy is being taken to a new height. Maybe that's why you are feeling a little restless or your mind is changing. This is the awakening of your inner power which is giving you energy to move forward. One more thing has come out very strongly.

The things that used to weaken you, that used to pull you down, have now become your shield. You have crushed all those things, all those weaknesses, all those fears with your courage, with your hard work. You are that person who accepts every challenge with a smile. This is the power of your soul, your willpower which is giving you all this. The people who wanted to see you down, who were waiting for your defeat, are just quietly watching your success. Your brilliance, your strength, your self-confidence is so strong that no one can stand in front of you.

You have not only defeated your weaknesses, but you have also given answers to those people who used to doubt you.

You are that warrior in front of whom no wall can stand. Your victory, your strength, your self-confidence has now become an example for everyone. You have proved that when a person decides, no power can stop.

So just keep walking on this path, at every step you will become stronger and brighter. This is your victory, this is your identity and you should be proud of it. The people who want to stop you, they will only get lost in your success.

You are now that star that shatters every darkness and spreads its light. And this is just the beginning. What is going to happen in the future is so magnificent that you will be amazed.

Be ready because your time has come.

Now, do not let anything become your weakness. Keep holding up a mirror to people, keep healing the people and keep singing hymns to God.

“Okay Uni.....”

“You have learned the real way to live life. You have understood how to make every challenge an opportunity, how to make every obstacle a ladder. This is no less than a big shock for those people who keep conspiring against you every day.

All their plans are in vain. All the plans that work are all going against them. Those people are really worried, surprised and unable to understand what is happening.

This is a demonstration of your strength. This is a proof of your soul power. All their conspiracies, all their plans to pull you down are all coming back to them. Seeing your strength, your courage and your firm willpower, these people have lost all hope. They thought they could defeat you easily, they could get you out of the way, but you have failed all their plans. You have shown that you are not what they thought you were.

You have made yourself stronger every time. You have lifted yourself higher every time. They have no other way now. The more they try to do something the more they get trapped in their own trap. All their attempts are failing and you are just shining. Your strength, your courage and your willpower to live your life is your real victory.

It is your firm willpower which is lifting you up from every obstacle. The people who were thinking of pulling you down are not able to handle themselves now. All their conspiracies, all their plans are proving to be in vain.

You have proved that no one can stop you. You are the kind of person who can overcome every obstacle with a smile. This quality of yours, this passion makes you unique.

The people who were against you are surprised to see how fast you are moving forward. All their attempts, all their conspiracies are in vain. They are just mourning their failure when you are moving towards your goal with full confidence.

So remember this is your strength is within you. No one can pull you down. No one can stop you. You are the kind person. This is your biggest victory. Keep moving forward. Keep shining. This is your identity and you should be proud of it. And listen, some people are trying to copy you. They want to be like you. They want to look like you. They want to work like you. But to be honest, no matter how hard they try, they are not able to do anything. Now they have fallen so low that their actions make them feel pity. I find these people to be very negative and jealous.

They are so insecure that they are not able to control themselves. The people around you who see you every day, your hard work, your success and your fame, they are feeling so uncomfortable that they are not able to think straight. Their insecurity is increasing day by day because you are performing so well in your life. At every step you are doing something that moves them inside. They think that how can you do so well? Your shine, your self-confidence and your hard work, all these things are stuck in their eyes. This is their weakness, their fear which is forcing them to do such things. You are setting such an example, you are making such an identity which makes people think that I wish I could become like that.

There is some magic going on in your life, there is some power and there is some blessing that whatever you touch becomes gold. All your works are happening so beautifully because I am supporting you.

“Thank you for supporting me my heavenly father.”

“What you are doing is not an ordinary thing. You are doing something extraordinary in your life, and not only I am seeing but the world around you is also seeing this.

So, just keep your shine bright. These negative people who are copying you or doing anything in, they are just struggling with their insecurity but you are moving towards your destination and that is your soul's victory, your identity and you should be proud of it.

“I am proud of myself and I am grounded.”

“This is that opportunity which will give you a new identity in front of God is taking you to that destination where your name will be your respect, will be the fruit of your hard work, will be your victory.

So get ready because the greatest chapter of your life is about to God will give you everything you deserve. You just have to keep moving forward, keep working hard and believe in God).

You are not a threat but the cure, something they do not like. You are neither a saint nor a devil; you are the balance and they will realize this only after you are died.”

“I am ready to die while doing your work. Well Uni, I wrote a song which name is "God is Good."

“Nice, share this with the world.”

“Yes Universe, I will share.”

FAMILY REUNION

FAMILY REUNION AFTER ONE YEAR OF VANWAS “AT HOME”

“Mom fell ill and I came home. Universe, You know everything. Now, my brother and the rest of the family are arguing with me. They are saying that for a girl is very conflict and difficult to find peace fulfill a spiritual path. Let get marry to someone. I told them that I want peace and disconnect the conversation. Please take care of everything.”

“Do not waste your energy; you will only exhaust yourself trying to convey a message to people. Simply perform the service and step aside, the message will reach the one for whom it is intended. You are free from the bondage of karma. Protect your energy.

Your energy is not like everyone. Your possessiveness, compassion, your depth and your intuition makes you different from everyone. Divine Feminine sensitivity is very deep and you are Divine feminine. Your energy is like motherly nature. Divine Feminine senses everything very quickly.”

“My energy is very strong and active, yet I feel tired.” I said

“A real Divine Feminine feels tired in the crowd and you are Divine Feminine that is why your energy drains very quickly, your energy gets leaked very quickly.

I will tell you how to protect your energy.”

“Please father.”

“You do not get harmed by outsiders but by giving more than needed. You are giving more energy than needed to others. You are trying to understand everyone. You are trying to solve everyone's problem that's why your energy is being lost.

You can't say no to anyone. Even if they don't feel like walking but if someone asks for help or asks to go somewhere you can't say no. So you have to understand that your energy is not for everyone.

You have to know who feels light when they meet you and who feels heavy. Who do you feel heavy when you meet? Who do you feel tired when you talk to? Who do you feel light when you talk to? If you feel tired when you meet someone, if you feel heavy or headache or stomach pain or symptoms then your energy is getting leaked somewhere. Secondly stop over-explaining.

“The biggest mistake is that you think you can explain to everyone and cure everyone. Maybe the other person will change if you will explain to them but the truth is the one who wants to understand wants to change. He doesn't need words. He doesn't need to explain. And the one who doesn't want to understand can't be changed by words.

Please stop over-explaining. Builds energy and stay silent. Speak where it's necessary. Staying silent protects and saves energy. Thirdly you have to learn to build emotional boundaries. You were taught from childhood to adjust, to tolerate, to sacrifice, to compromise because you are a girl. But the spiritual truth is that you have to build boundaries. If you are in a spiritual journey and carrying it then you have to build boundaries.

Boundaries are not against love. It is self-respect. If you are a spiritual person then you have to build some boundaries for yourself. You have to set some principles for your life. You have to learn to protect and save your energy. It doesn't mean that it is not important to receive every call if you don't feel like it right now, you are not feeling better from inside. You don't feel like talking to anyone. Your energy is not like that if you receive someone, you don't do it. If you don't want to give your energy to someone, you don't give it. Every problem is not your responsibility. You also have to understand that you will not keep solving everyone's problems without giving it a thought. Don't carry the burden of everyone's pain and sorrow. This is not your problem. You can guide them but you can't carry their burden and walk on your own. Divine Feminine herself has a lot of pain but she still takes others' pain. Divine Feminine energy is such that. You feel that everyone's pain and sorrow is mine but you have to understand that other people's pain is not yours. Being compassionate is a different thing and living others' pain on your own is a different thing.

Do not entertain your family also. They will not understand.

Speak what your soul tells you to, and then step away; there is no need to make everyone understand, for they simply won't they do not possess a mind like yours, nor are they spiritually awakened. You are free from the bondage of karma; just maintain healthy boundaries whether at home or outside.

“Okay Uni.....”

“Understand the difference between empathy and absorption. Empathy understands and absorption carries that pain. So you have to see that you don't have to carry others' pain. Most important is to awaken your Shiva Shakti Tattva to balance it. When Shiva Shakti Tattva is balanced then human's emotions are never imbalanced. You can improve your soul power. You are not imbalanced, You are a balanced person. Listen to your body's language and understand because when energy is written or energy is recharged your body gives you signs getting tired suddenly feeling heaviness in heart chakra, headache, stomach pain and back pain these are the energetic signs of the body. When this happens, stay alone and spend some time with yourself, stay away from mobile and TV. Stay close to nature, try to connect with yourself, try to connect with me and you will heal immediately. Do meditation, if you can't do meditation at that time chant a mantra, If you can't chant, listen to it, listen to healing music, help yourself somehow .

“Okay Universe thank you for giving me advice to protect my energy.”

“Listen don't give access to everyone. Your laughter, your tears, your breakdown because some people take your energy but they don't give you nutrition means in return. They don't give you positive energy, they don't give you anything, they just leave you, giving access is also a spiritual decision so don't give access to anyone and keep your boundaries.

You should spend some time on daily basis with you. It will recharge your energy, you can sit quietly at this time. You can write something, you can sing if you like to sing. You can meditate or you can spend time with nature this will recharge your energy.

Learn to let go of guilt .When you judge yourself you will feel guilt, why because society says if you are selfish, bossy, rude, changed, and arrogant, everything is given to you, you have changed and you are selfish, you think only for yourself. Your mind starts feeling guilty. You have to save yourself from all this. If someone says this to you, don't go into the energy of guilt at all or if something happens to someone, don't feel guilty, you have no fault in this, because you have not left anyone, you are always blamed. Whatever happens to someone, you are blamed so why have you only saved yourself.

Choosing yourself is not leaving anyone, so stop listening to everyone and everyone's words, don't keep yourself in the energy of guilt at all. Consider your energy to be pure. This is very important.

Your energy is a sacred energy, it is the purest energy of me, because it is the energy of Mother Divine. Your energy is not to sacrifice or destroy, this energy has not been given to you. This is a divine energy that serves everyone but does not lose self-respect. It keeps you safe, it keeps your self-respect. These are ways by which you can save your energy, by draining your energy, by being licked.”

“Okay Uni.. I will serve you without draining myself.”

CHAPTER- 5

AGE SECRETE, SUCCESS ACHIEVED

“People tell me that for your age, you possess profound wisdom—insights into concepts like the meaning of forgiveness and true spiritual awakening which isn't about abandoning worldly life to run off to the mountains or merely talking about God). You speak with a depth that even the elderly rarely match, let alone someone in their late twenties. You've written six or seven books at such a young age, with more to come. It is remarkable that you've been working so diligently since you were 23 or 24, a time when most people are busy having fun with friends and dating. Even now, at 29, you look barely 22 or 23, achieving so much so young, looking years younger than your age, and possessing that radiant glow on your face, your secret is a mystery. You are a mystery, Anuprash.

Please tell me about this, Universe. You made me unique; people think I look younger than I am, and it was You who taught and guided me—through my inner self—to achieve such success and work so hard at this young age. Please tell me something about my age and the little miracles in my life...”

“You have an energy that not everyone has. This energy makes you different from others. This is why people often say to you that you look younger than your age. Your personality always looks fresh. Your age is increasing but people still consider you young. The secret of this is not only in the skin or body of your face, but also in your soul and vibration. There is a divine light inside you that always keeps you young. Because whenever you forgive someone, whenever you love someone unconditionally, whenever you feel gratitude, then your aura becomes so bright that even time stops in front of you. This is why you look younger than your age.

Your youthful energy is the source, your pure mind and positive thinking. You find a way to be happy in every situation. You can be kind to others. And these blessings shine like a glow on your face. People think that this glow comes from cream and treatments. But I am the universe is saying this glow is from your soul. You must have noticed that people who cry all the time, live in anger, they look old soon. But those who laugh, know how to forgive, live in gratitude, their age is not visible on their face.

You are that blessed soul. Your youthful energy is the sign that there is always divine power with you.

Now people will not only see your youthful energy, but will also see the shining stars of your destiny. Remember, the lighter you keep your heart, the more youthful you will look. When you forgive, your wrinkles reduce. When you are grateful, your eyes shine. When you love, a glow comes on your face. And when you are happy with your heart, the tiredness of your body disappears. That's why you look younger than your age. Understand that being young is not an ordinary thing, it is the result of your good deeds. I am The universe is blessing you that in the coming time, your youthful energy will not only increase your beauty, but will also attract abundance, money and true love in your life.

People will look at you and say that you have changed, but you look more beautiful and energetic than before. Maybe you have noticed that whenever you are happy, smile from your heart, or speak your mind openly then people look at you and say that they can't guess your age.

The reason for this is that real youth, real beauty and real shine are hidden in your thoughts and emotions. When a person is calm from within, he has a different look on his face. The more positive your thoughts are, the more powerful your energy will be.

And this energy shines through your skin, your eyes and your entire personality. Your age is a number written on a calendar. The real age is of your soul, and the soul is never old.

People who fill themselves with love, gratitude and happiness always look young. Think about it, whenever you play with a child or try to fulfill an old dream, how do you feel at that moment, lite fresh and young? This is the magic of the state of mind.

So if you want people to always say that you look younger than your age then the real secret is to keep your thoughts pure, keep your mind lite, and be grateful every day. The more you accept these things, the more people around you will notice your change. They will see that the brightness of your face, the sweetness of your voice, and the sparkle of your eyes are increasing every day.

And remember, this is not a coincidence. This is a direct relationship between you and the universe (me). When you spread light from within, the outside world also sees you in the same light.

People often think that its secret is only hidden in expensive products, cosmetic treatments, or makeup. But the truth is much deeper than this. The brightness of your soul, the purity of your thoughts, and the purity of your energy give you the real glow. I am telling you that when you leave your inner burden, negativity, and loneliness, your face starts looking lighter and more attractive. This is why people are surprised to see you again and again.

And they say that you don't change at all. You look younger than your age because you are one of those people who still have innocence in their hearts. You didn't let yourself be harsh with the circumstances.

I am the universe has created that purity within you because of which your eyes are shining. Your smile has innocence and your words have healing power. Others think this is magic.

But in reality, this is a reflection of your thoughts. When you have good thoughts, when you give true prayers to others, when you help others without any selfishness, then all these vibrations start appearing on your face. This is why wrinkles appear on your face from time to time.

And your personality instantly makes people feel positive.

The real beauty is not outside but inside. If you are young at heart, then your age will never look clear on your face.

You are that beautiful girl whose face shines with the light of your soul. And the biggest thing is that it is time for you to understand this mystery and reach out to others. Many people see you and think that how do you look so young? I am the universe is choosing you so that you convey this message to them.

True youth is not of the body but of the soul. And remember, this is not a coincidence. This is a direct relationship between you and me.

So you understood now that why you look very young from your real age. The reason for this is not just external care, but also the thought, lifestyle, and energy inside. When you keep your thoughts positive, when you smile from your heart, and when you find happiness in small things, then the brightness of your face automatically increases.

So from now on, forget your age and live your heart's age. Keep yourself fresh, take care of your body, and most importantly, make your poor face beautiful. Remember, if your heart is young, then your face will always look young.”

“I love you too Universe, thank you giving me clarity of my age.”

MANIFESTATION AND GRATITUDE

“You know, Universe that I meditate, serve, and pray; yet, I do not always feel the urge to manifest or ask anything of You. You have given me so much, and I am—and always will be—deeply grateful to You.”

Please share some effective manifestation techniques with me that can help fulfill dreams those of my future generations. I will pass on to my descendants the very methods I experience firsthand, so that they too can realize their dreams by practicing manifestation and following your guidance.

“I am going to do meditation, please tell me....”

“First, understand the Brahma Muhurta; then, try to listen to me; and after that, practice manifestation.

You know that not everyone can wake up at the time of Brahma muhurta. But there are some people whose eyes open between 3 to 5 AM in the morning without an alarm. It is the time of God’s and divine energy. You are the one whom I chose that is why you woke up immediately in 00:04 AM.

You feel a different peace in the peaceful environment of the morning, your mind automatically pulls towards God, meditation and devotion, your soul is awakening for some special purpose. And the most shocking thing is that not everyone gets such signs. Only you and those people feel them whose souls start awakening from within.

Today I will tell you six mysterious signs related to the time of Brahma which indicate the awakening of soul. I am telling you and please you share this through your career to infinite soul.

“Yapp Universe I will share what you taught me and give me. I will share my spiritual gifts to the others.”

“Okay listen, the first sign is to wake up at the time of Brahma without an alarm. When your consciousness starts to rise above the normal level, then nature itself wakes you up at that time.

This is not a coincidence, but it is a divine sign that your soul has started to connect with the subtle energy of the Universe. Often it happens that you wake up between 3 to 5AM in the morning without any reason, without any alarm. And the surprising thing is that there is no restlessness inside you at that time, but a strange peace is felt, as if someone has awakened you with great softness.

This time is not only meant to sleep, but to wake up and connect with yourself. At this time, every element of nature is balanced, the air is pure, the environment is calm, and the energy is extremely satvik (spiritual positive energy).

When your eyes open at this time, it indicates that your mind is now moving away from the external noise and towards the inner calmness. The flow of thoughts becomes slow, and a deep silence begins to descend inside. This silence is not emptiness, but a door to a new beginning.

At this time some deep questions arise within you, about life, about your purpose, or you may start remembering God without any reason. All this indicates that your consciousness is no longer limited to the physical world, but it has started to touch the spiritual state. At this time, the environment is the most calm and pure, the mind is calm, the thoughts are less, and the soul is the most receptive.

Your mind will gradually move away from worldly things. You will feel good to be alone. And a search will begin inside, who am I? What is my purpose? All this is a part of the path on which your soul is walking.

The time of the morning when the whole world is still asleep, when the noise has stopped and nature is in its purest state, if at that time your mind calms down without any effort, then this is not just a habit, this is a spiritual indication. You feel that there is no worry, no restlessness, just a deep peace, such a peace that is difficult to explain in words. You sit quietly and go into a state of meditation without trying.

The sound of birds is no longer noise, but music. The touch of the air is no longer ordinary, but alive. And the first ray of the sun, as if giving you energy, you suddenly begin to understand that this peace did not come from outside, it was always inside you.

Now you are able to feel it. Gradually, you begin to find peace even in small things. You like to be alone, because now loneliness does not seem empty, but gives you the experience of completeness.

You begin to be happy for no reason, but this is not happiness, this is stability, this is contentment. And most importantly, now you do not have to try to get this peace. It comes on its own, because it is not coming from outside, but coming from within.

Very few people are able to experience this state, because it is necessary for the mind to be calm. And when this sign appears in your life, then understand that your consciousness is now changing. You are no longer limited to your body or mind, you are beginning to feel your soul.

When the consciousness begins to awaken, then the noise of the outside world begins to decrease, and a new sound is born inside. A sound that is beyond words, but still clear, that sound is in the name of God. You must have noticed that suddenly the mind starts chanting Ram Ram or OM Namah Shivaya.

When the soul begins to purify, then it begins to pull towards its original source, and that source is God. What is a mantra? A mantra is not just a word, it is an energy, it is a bell, which raises your consciousness. When this mantra begins to move on its own then understand that your consciousness is in harmony with that energy. Now you do not have to meditate forcefully. Now meditation becomes a part of your life, just like breathing, just like meditation.

You start asking questions. Who am I? What is the purpose of life? These questions begin to echo inside you, and you move towards meditation to find answers to them.

Talking, laughing, joking, showing off, everything slowly seems empty to you. You ask yourself, why don't I like all this? And this is where your inner transformation begins when you start to distance yourself from fights, negative things, gossip and unnecessary discussions.

When you start to separate yourself from such people whose energy is heavy and negative, then this is not a weakness. This is a sign that your soul is now awakening. Your mind has now moved away from the external noise and started to look for inner peace.

You start to like solitude. Silence starts to give peace. Sitting in the middle of nature, feeling the air, looking at the sky and all this starts to fill you from within.

Where you used to be afraid of being alone, now that solitude becomes your biggest support. You begin to understand that not every crowd is for you. Not every person is fit for your energy.

Gradually, you learn to protect your energy. You learn to say no. You stop giving time to unnecessary talks.

Your soul will attract to light and pure energy. You feel that some people are not able to understand you. Some people will say that you have changed.

Some people will think you are alone, strange or different. But the truth is that you are not getting separated. You are developing.

But remember, every change seems difficult at first. But it takes you to a new height. This sign tells you that your soul will now move towards purity. You will accept those things that bring peace inside you and pull you down.

This is a new beginning, beginning where you will understand yourself better where you will experience true peace.

Once you reach this state of peacefulness through meditation, you will be able to manifest effectively. After you have cultivated the habit of waking up early, light a candle and express gratitude to the deity you believe in for everything God has bestowed upon you so far, do it like this -

GRATITUDE

When you wake up in the morning, the very first thing you should do is thank God, like this -

- 1- Thank you God for giving me breath to breathe today.
- 2- I am very grateful to you for giving me this new beautiful day.
- 3- Thank you for fulfilling my all materials needs.
- 4- Thank you for bringing me so far.
- 5- Thank you for giving me this luxurious life.
- 6- Thank you for giving me enough money to live independently.
- 7- Thank you for uplifting me.
- 8- Thank you for making me famous writer.
- 9- Thank you for making me famous personality.
- 10- Thank you for choosing me as a lightworker for heal the humanity. I will heal the humanity as a lightworker for my rest of life. I will make you proud Universe.
- 11- Thank you for protecting me always.
- 12- I love you God (your ideal God here) I love you Universe.

Now I am going to start my day, please bless my rest of day. I am with you at every step of your journey, and I always will be God.

Upon waking up in the morning, thank God. Acknowledge that everything I have mentioned belongs to me; express gratitude to God for whatever you are grateful for. After showing gratitude, say this final prayer and start your day —

God is with me, He is protecting me and guiding me.

I am healthy, I am wealthy, I am divine,

I am rich, I am successful, I am lightworker Universe and me are aligned.

AFTERNOON GRATITUDE

Say thank you for whatever you eat throughout the day—even if it's just an ice cream.

Thank you God for giving me this ice cream to eat.

Thank you God for giving me this grocery for today.

Thank you God for giving me this food which I am going to receive.

NIGHT GRATITUDE

When you are about to go to sleep, express gratitude for what God has given you. Just as I suggested showing gratitude in the morning, do the same at night.

I know you might consider this a waste of time, but if you aren't grateful for what God has already given you, He won't give you anything more. God loves those who are grateful and pure-hearted, and you can become the kind of person whom God loves.

If you find it difficult to focus while worshipping or praying, simply light a lamp in the morning and evening, express your gratitude to God, and meditate for a short while.

Even if you do not wish to light a lamp, simply express gratitude—morning and evening, right from your bed—for the blessings you have received. This practice is not limited to any single faith; it applies to everyone—whether Hindu, Muslim, Sikh, or Christian. Offer gratitude to the Divine in the form you believe in, for God is one; religious labels do not matter. Whatever form you worship, your prayers reach the Divine in that very form and are heard by the Universe.

The various beliefs people of different faiths hold about God are not entirely wrong; simply believe in whatever way suits you and seek His help—He is ready to handle everything. Otherwise, God's existence effectively ceases to matter in your life, for if you do not seek His help, the forces of darkness will overpower you.

Do not try to control everything; instead, live your life by surrendering. Live with the mindset that whatever is happening—whether good or bad—is unfolding as it should and is ultimately for your own good; this will make your life much easier.

I live my life in a state of surrender, and that is my soul contract; I am here to teach the art of surrender and to connect the new generation with God. My mission is to heal people, awaken them, and reveal the truth. Whether people love me or hate me, I must do what my soul dictates—otherwise, I would simply have to fulfill this same purpose in the next life, so I am completing it all in this lifetime.

However, not everyone will grasp these concepts—after all, the book The Secrete states that only four percent of people truly understand them—but you could become one of those four percent.

MANIFESTATION

MANIFESTATION AFTER GRATITUDE

After practicing gratitude, write down your wish—much like a chant—to manifest it.

- 1- Thank you God for giving me ten lakh rupees in my account (example)

Speak only when tears well up in your eyes, because the Universe responds to energy and emotion, not to the voice itself.

It means you should repeat what you desire so many times that tears well up in your eyes; only then will those tears signal to the Universe that you have truly connected with it and that you deserve it—and then, the Universe will align your wish with its energy because the Universe looks at your intentions rather than your words. After that, you need to remain in a receptive mode—stay open—as that wish could be fulfilled from anywhere.

- 2- Write down all your wishes on a sticky note pad and stick them in a place you visit frequently, such as the fridge or the living room. Then, whenever you pass by, take a moment to look at and read the notes; this ensures a constant signal is sent to the Universe.
- 3- Start living the lifestyle you desire; if you don't have the money yet then embody the energy of the life you want.
- 4- If you want a partner or love, state it as if they are already yours and you will manifest them.
- 5- Great legends have already shared the method for visualizing your dreams. Try to feel as though you are sitting in the garden of your dream home, sipping coffee.
- 6- Write down your dreams as if they have already been realized—at least twice a day.

- 7- Look at big stars; they have millions of followers, a success largely credited to their promotional teams. It is these teams that craft and showcase that distinctive "star lifestyle"—one you might aspire to adopt yourself. No one here is going to push you forward or pay attention to a new artist; you must present the image you want the public to see, and only then will they perceive you as rich and famous.
Start living the life you aspire to lead. The general public doesn't have the time to constantly comment on people's reels and posts—that's all handled by PR teams, and you can have that done too. After all, people are busy earning a living; they aren't going to spend their time commenting on your posts. Just start living the dream life you envision and the Universe will turn it into reality.
- 8- You have to take risks to turn your dream life into reality; if you do, the Universe will fall in love with you and lift you up. Always think big, eat well, and dress well—by doing so, you are laying the foundation for your dream life.
- 9- Don't just think of yourself as rich; let others perceive you as rich too, and your manifestation will materialize even faster. When you dress well, people will say, "He looks rich"; this means that by saying so, they are also helping to manifest the reality of your wealth.

SUCCESS ACHIEVED

“How does it feel, my daughter? It's a victory.”

“You have given me everything. You gave me peace, love and care, my dream house, and success. You gave me it all. I am so grateful to You, Universe, for every blessing.”

“Your good intentions and good deed have finally brought color.

There is a new glow, as if the stars are bowing down to greet you. Every direction, every wind, every ray is filled with the glow of your name. The prayers that you quietly made in your heart, are now took shape.

The dreams that you had kept in your eyes alone at night, are now walking on the path of your reality. The fragrance of your good intentions was so pure that even I am the universe could not ignore it. I am the universe trusted the truth of your heart. That is why it made ways for you, opened doors for you, and sent people to make your journey easy. You never wanted anything bad for anyone. You just had one desire.

Every heart found peace. Every eye got light. And today, that same desire has returned as a reward for you.

This is all the result of your actions. This is the victory of the truth of your heart. That moment, when you felt that everything is over, every path is closed. Even then, I am the universe was with you. It gathered your tears in its light, and turned them into pearls. Now, those pearls have returned to shine your life.

Your good intentions were not only for you, but were a boon for the whole world. Your kindness, your prayers, your silent help, all of them have created such a power, which is now standing around you as a protective shield. And this power has joined your name with happiness today.

In the lap of me (Universe) all those incomplete dreams are now slowly blossoming which you never told anyone. That voice which used to say, that everything will be over, has now become peaceful. Now, a new voice is echoing in its place.

Congratulations dear soul!"

"Thank you Universe, give me a hug...."

"Your welcome, that smile which was lost somewhere in the burden of sorrows, is now returning to your face. Your eyes have once again seen that glow which is saying to the world, I have not given up.

And this is the reason that I have lightened the way for you. Your good intentions are your real strength. People say, that success is achieved only through hard work.

But I know that miracles happen where intentions are pure. And this has happened with you. Your truth has done something, which the world considered impossible.

And this is just the beginning. I am your Universe has kept bigger gifts for you than this.

The more patience you have kept, the more beautiful reward you received in your life. Every difficulty, every pain that you have endured, now all those are returning as blessings for you. I want to remind you again and again, that this is not a coincidence.

This is the result of all those small good deeds, which you have done with your heart. Those small moments of help, those words, which say to give comfort to broken hearts, those silent prayers, which you have done for others. I did not forget even one.

Your good intentions were like those seeds, which you had quietly sown. You never asked for praise. But I the universe understood your feelings.

And today, those same seeds, have started giving fruits like a tree. Such fruits which will satisfy the soul. The difficulties of your life did not come to break you, but came to crush you.

Every tear, every pain, every loneliness, now has become the shine of your eyes. People will see and say, there is a different light on her face. But they will not be able to know, that behind this light, there are so many awake nights.

Your good intentions have opened those doors, which used to seem closed. Now those opportunities will be standing in front of you, which you had dreamt of.”

“Thank you universe, you did not let my good intentions go in vain.”

“Now people have started adding your name with respect and trust. Those who used to consider you weak, now are surprised to see that your goodness has raised you so high.

Now there is a new energy all around you. People come to you and feel peaceful. They find peace in your presence.

All this is the effect of your good intentions.

Your light is not only for you, but it is a gift for the whole world. Your intention has now become a bridge which takes you from darkness to light.

Now this bridge will become a way for others. Your story will teach people, that goodness never loses, even if it is late. But in the end, it is the one who wins.

That voice which used to say, you cannot do anything, now it will be peaceful forever. Your good intentions are the most precious in my eyes.

Whenever you helped someone, you did not want to get anything in return. You only had one intention, to make someone's life a little easier. And that truth has now become a boon for you. Those people who illuminate the ways of others, for them I even bow the stars in the sky.

And this is what is happening to you today. Now those incidents are going to happen in your life which will shock you because all this is a reward for your honesty, patience and truthfulness.

The fragrance of your goodness has spread so far, that now those people are also asking about you who used to ignore you. Those people who used to think, you will not be able to do anything special. Now they have started praising you.

The good changes that are happening in your life, they are not sudden, they are there your prayers, good deeds and the image of the true mind. I was with you at every step look, I have never left you alone.

Now your smile is getting deeper. Self-confidence has started to shine in it, which was there before, but maybe the world had suppressed it. Now that light has started to shine so much, that it cannot be hidden.

Your good intention, has given you that power, which is neither obtained from any position, nor from wealth, but comes from the soul. And this power is now opening every door for you.

This is not just your story, this is the story of that truth, which proves it. Even if the time is difficult but good intentions never lose. And when they win then that victory is not only of humans but of the whole universe it means me.

Now that moment has come which you have been waiting for patiently. Now that time is in front of you when your soul is getting respect which it has been entitled to for centuries.

That struggle that silence that loneliness which was a part of your journey.

Now, its meaning has become clear. It did not go in vain. In fact, it has prepared you for those gifts, which I arranged for you.

Now those people, who never understood you, will bow down before your energy because now your light will not only guide you but will also guide countless lost souls.

You have now become a messenger, a vehicle of such energy which has come to bring change in this world.

“Yapp Universe.”

“There is a magnetic power in your thoughts now. There is a divine touch in your words now. And your presence has become a sign of a new dawn.

You have lit a lamp of hope even in the darkness. And now I am turning that lamp into an astronomy which is not only yours but will illuminate the lives of thousands of souls. Now, the divinity within you will shine in your deeds.

Your touch will give peace to people. Your smile will give comfort to broken hearts.

Now you will not only be an inspiration for yourself, but for the whole world.

I recognize the power within you.

Your heart is gentle and with this gentle heart, you always think about others and finally brought color.

You have your own house at the age of 29th and you are a famous writer, your name is on google. Your lightworker show is running good, you are helping poor people and children with food and other stuff, you have a lot of followers on Instagram and a lot of subscriber on you tube. Your Ngo is running for social work. You made it Anuprash. You are doing great....

“Yapp Universe with grace of you I made it. I know you are the one whose uplifted me, I am very grateful to you Universe for every blessing which you give me in my life. I will serve you for my rest of life, I will heal the humanity as Lightworker and I will tell everything about your miracles, power and love.

“High five Anuprash...

“High five Universe

“You are financially independent at the age of 30th. You are beautiful, hard worker, smart and successful female at the very young age in your family. You are living luxury life and you can buy, travel and eat wherever you want.”

“Yapp I won Universe and I will tell broken, tired and self-doubt people about all this and they will get success like me with grace of you. I love you Universe, thank you for making me win in my life.”

“Yapp you won Anuprash, This is what I expect from you: be a source of support for people, carry my name forward, inspire trust in me, and tell them to seek my help.

I am always there for them. Tell them that God is good and God is real; the various forms in which people of every religion believe in Me are all valid. Believe in Me in whatever form you choose—whether Hindu, Muslim, Sikh, or any other faith—and I will help you. Convey My message to everyone. I have high hopes for you, dear soul; you will make Me proud.”

“Yapp Universe I will make you proud, I will spread God’s message to the world and I will restore their faith in you—remind them of who you are—because people have forgotten you.”

“One thing more I want to tell you....”

“Please Universe...”

“I need you to do yourself this huge favor. don't tell anybody about your money.

This particular breakthrough is for yours and for poor people.

Do some help of your family members but you have to go so far that is why do not announce it to a family member. Do not announce it to your friends. Do not announce it to strangers.

Don't try to rush to post it online. This is not a time to prove anything to anybody. Your blessing is not for display.

Your blessing is for stability. This is not just money. This is establishment money.

This is the kind of blessings that sets foundation. This is the kind of blessing that alters bloodline trajectory.

You do not need validation. Your only responsibility is to thank Me (God and Universe) for the moment.

You do not need to share it with anyone. You don't need to post it anywhere. Let me make this extremely practical. Live your life with awareness.

There are days where you struggled silently. There were nights you cried quietly. There were seasons when you were misunderstood.

You walked, you waited, you prayed, you believed and this blessing is your compensation.

Remember where you're coming from. How far you've come and let gratitude guide your steps daily. Not everyone in your circle can handle your blessings.

Some of them are going to envy you. Others are going to manipulate you. Some will expect access.

Some will feel entitled. Some are going to try to control your decisions. This is why you must stay quiet.

There's a peace that comes from privacy. There are people who received breakthroughs too loudly.

They celebrated loudly. They announced it loudly. And the same people who clapped for them publicly prayed against them in private. That is why I do not want you to suffer with evil eyes. Just keep doing your work, heal the people, write the books and serve me silently.”
