The Missing
Money

Trip To Alibag

Grandma's
Birthday

The Missing Money

I went to my grandma's house on April 15th. My brother Tyson couldn't come with us as he had exams. We understand the challenges he is facing, but we were relieved that he chose not to travel with us. He is the most anxious person in the family and gets worried whenever anything happens to us. My grandma is 60 years old. She gave me 200

rupees to buy some fashionable pens at the stationery store because my brothers and I love pens. I went to the stationery store and asked about the top 10 best pens available for less than 100 rupees because I planned to give the other 200 rupees to Chris to buy some clothes. At another stationery store, the uncle gave me a lot of suggestions, but I was perplexed. So, I asked

Chris what to buy, and he advised me to purchase either DC or MARVEL pens. I didn't know much about DC superheroes, but I was aware of Marvel. So, I took one of the pens the uncle had recommended.

When I returned home, I realized that the money had fallen out of my pocket. I was horrified because I knew my parents would be upset with me.

However, I felt relieved that my grandma would shield me from their anger. Then I drove Chris to the stationery store, hoping that the money was still there. We found the money at the previous stationery store, dirty and dusty but still there. I quickly grabbed the cash and followed my brother to the stationery store where I had left the pens. Then I gave him the cash and asked for 100 in return.

My brother said that we had been saved from our parents' wrath. It felt like a miracle.

When we returned home, our grandma asked us about the pens and why we were late. I told her the entire story, and she advised us to visit a temple and pray to God because she had assisted us in making all of this happen.

My brother and I went to pray. It was a thrilling day for me.

Trip To Alibag

My parents made the decision to visit Alibag. When my brothers heard about it, they began daydreaming about the location, the foods, etc. I woke up and realised it was only a dream after letting our parents make the final decision. The eldest brother, Tyson, spoke to his father about his hopes for the trip and received the following response:

"Okay, if you all are excited, then we will go to Alibag but not today because first we have to do packing." There,

we'll remain for three to four days and explore. Chris began to pack his travel luggage,
including his beloved drone stick
camera, along with four pairs of shorts

and five t-shirts.
Additionally, he took that and informed his father
that he had already packed his luggage
and was prepared to go at any moment!

My brother Mike started bawling when he saw this since he also needed that drone stick camera. Father then produced his phone and advised the child to use it as a camera; he added that he would retain the phone and would not give it to anybody else.

I told him, "Okay, you can keep that," and then I stuffed a bunch of things into my bag, declaring,

"My bag is full, and I can't keep any more things." You may keep your items in this, Chris said me as he handed me his small trolley. I was astounded by how this youngster could share his possessions

considering how he had never before.

The following day,
we ordered a cab
and loaded it with our belongings.

After becoming comfortable in the automobile, Chris began recording
with his drone stick

camera in order to create a vlog about the experience.

When we saw the first glimpse of alibag I exclaimed
how beautiful it is..
You should also visit to alibag.. There were many beaches like Varsoli Beach, Kolaba Fort / Alibag Fort, Nagaun Beach and etc.

My mum then abruptly urged me to get up and go to school at seven thirty in the morning. I felt depressed because it was all just a dream.

Grandma's Birthday

On 14th of April grandma's birthday
was there. We all were excited
because it was the best chance to celebrate her birthday. Chris decided that he will make the cake. We all knew that whenever he did some cooking and other stuff he would do something mischievous so we told it will be better if our mom does.

Then everybody agreed. I exclaimed that I will bring all the decoration
items and decorate the hall. My brother Mike added he will also do with me. So the others started there work and I too. My grandma didn't know at all that we were doing all this for her..

Then we were all ready for the cake party and celebration grandpa and grandma cut the cake. All the relatives and family were invited to the party...

We were happily enjoying the days at the grandma's house. It such a beautiful times that when we enjoy and now these are called as memories.

Since this is the last content.

I would like to thank you my whole family and relatives for helping me our

to make this part more interesting..

Lastly I was Tyson in this whole book and my brothers were too mischievous.
