DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to all those who have common thoughts for humanity and its future. Who believe peace can do justice to all those who have been hurt through violence.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to thank first of all, my parents who gave me the courage and strength to write this book. I would never forget the help given by all my relatives and the competitive platforms given by different organizations in strengthening my poetic abilities. The books I have read including the plays of Shakespeare, poems of Coleridge, and modern books including Harry Potter have helped me very much in improving my innate abilities. Going through many hardships during the COVID outbreak also gave a boost to my mind. It taught me how life can change in every second and gave the sense of unpredictability of life.

PREFACE

This work is not intended to hurt anyone, neither is it a life advise book. I am providing my own thoughts on life, the global issues faced by people in this century and the growing struggles in people's life. This book is just an opinion of a poet expressing concern over the growing political inactivity among people in India. It also want to stress upon peace as a mightier tool than anything which can bring progress to nation. My love and passion for poetry is shown here. Those wanting romantic poetry, I would suggest, this is not the place for them.

1. Teenager

The days of my good laughter, those were the days of a fighter when my heart was young and it always merrily rung

I hope those are not over, fighter as I will fight in power because mind should be free to expand the universe without fee

May the power of soul fight, through these pages and not see the plight

Because I am fed with pain

THOUGHTS TO SURVIVE

and would like to make gains

Every night was city of dreams towards different streams let us rise through a bright tomorrow and show me the bright yesterday let the swords of envy shiver, with professional words of a writer these are the thoughts of mine the night before I sleep.

Here a new journey is starting because the tour of life is never ending who knows the infinite, those who think they are bright as the stars shine in the sky, that would be the theory of mine shine in the night brighter giving light to those whose journeys' darker

This is just the beginning to tell the world of my longing to be the writer of text and do all my best let's drive together and start a new journey towards the hearts of those who have lost something other than a person and else nothing because losing somethings also is like losing someone beloved since somethings bring memories

here my poem ends to a close.

The sun is shining bright but here the schedule is tight

and here a beautiful day has left

A child starts his journey in womb

the mother dreaming what the child would become till she is gone, its only that he should live lively

the days are still in progress like moves going on a game of chess each move deciding a journey whether a child would become an attorney

still the roads diverge in two one not to, and one to do in some case the invaluable currency

is spent to make life lively the other way spends in productivity

full of creativity and activity

deciding things in precision like scissors in hands of a surgeon here also there is an option smartly enjoying and working in fusion

not wasting a limited life, in simply hard work and saying that's wise

every day comes with a new opportunity

there's always a hope for a little positivity

people will say what they like

THOUGHTS TO SURVIVE

but it is you who decides what to be like

If you are the ones who like to be lost in the world of other thoughts remember it is you who have to live

not controlled by power of others' will

there is a world full of contradiction come out from this old world of fiction

every theory has its own function it is you who fulfills the purpose

THOUGHTS TO SURVIVE

everyone in the world has a purpose

if you don't see, you play a circus if you realize, you are the boss and if you don't, others are your boss

take the will and power of decision, in correct manner, and in correct precision

express yourself like a bird flying freely

otherwise, you would not be able to do this frequently listen to critics for your improvement they are the key for societal development

if once you fail there's always room for next those who once come last may evolve to first it takes hope and effort till last minute

last is a thought for your best never start abruptly, first, hope for your best

2. An Opportunity

The world is an unknown traveler, traveling in the direction of stars

But not knowing the stars which have fallen, their hopes have also been run over god had created man, but now the fight is for him

He had given everything man asked for, at the price of good morality

So now man fights among themselves, like in a game of chess.

though the loser in chess is the opponent,

but in a war, the loser is humanity

Better I feel looking at the window the window to the present as the other ones

tear me from inside out

Always wanted to be better ended up thinking and worrying

better would I feel after the demons inside me heal

My present politics is not better do not want to make them tougher those who represent the population therefore, have the responsibility to the nation

Bridging the gap between rich and poor,

that would help me feel better, because those feeling hunger and starvation

are more in need of feeling better

Whenever I see the public

I feel the political core is dead as those who feel it, only see these things behind it

The heart inside me covers the core and the thought and imagination has to invoke the sleeping nation that would be the cure

The fire alone is not enough, as it needs ignition

like every chemical reaction always needs a catalyst

That catalyst in human beings needs to work in mind and heart, otherwise, it is a weak body that cries so let the catalyst work at heart

The name of the catalyst is the "power of will"

that fills mind with hope and trust

Let the catalyst burn and glow the faith and potential in you, so that you are never ruined

A person is looking in the mirror like seeing through and thinking yeah! The best person can't beat but does he know what it takes as here comes the competitor

Thinking that one is the best gives power

but is not to think that he can snatch the prestige and dignity

earned through ages and shred it to his priority

The degree of beauty varies from creature to creature but when a human worries about external beauty,

the competition is now internal as here comes the opportunity the competitor is not visible, as it is inside the mind, getting nursed to bruises caused by internally conflicting mind

due to a competitor who stole opportunities

And now come the competitors, changing their names to jealousy vanity, bitterness and hate though the minority should be winners who is love, compassion and empathy

Next comes the thought of winning, right balance leads to better performance

so here the formula is unwinding be the internal competitor; keep shining

Through these two chapters, I hope you now better understand the purpose of the book. In the first chapter, I give the glimpse of the life and thoughts of a teenager from the day he starts his shift from a child to an adolescent and his dreams of troubling future. These are the things we all have gone through. "A new journey" is all about a teenager's journey through the destiny. I hope to bring out a story through, my collection of poems. From the life of a teenager which is contained in the first chapter, we move on to the next chapter which deals with the motivations and opportunities a person has without any identity of his/her own status. I, here stress upon to make the world a better place to live in and share my thoughts on what can really make the world better. I hope I have not offended anyone as I told you this book is just a piece of poetic artwork not designed to give life advise. Now we will focus on the world as a family.

3. The Civilization

The game is on to find who is the chosen one to unwind the sins of mankind and find whom to trust and handover mother earth

because this will change humanity forever

Ever and forever is not the problem, the problem is sustainability a future that is an unimportant sum for many and played childishly

it is necessary to find the Saviour, to change humanity and life forever

It is necessary to understand development is not just capital it is about building green capital, trees are to be planted not cut and hills to be sustained, cause this should change life and humanity forever

Development should be planned and executed, to match the needs of the environment,

building green values and cherishing humanity,

because if intelligent ones become ignorant,

animals and others will suffer naturally, this would be necessary to change humanity and life forever.

Let us stand for green capital, as it is enough of pollution, enough of noise which became fatal, this is the time though too late for humanity to find a succession,

to make lives great and save us from humiliation

is it the end of time, or the start of next civilization, be it the next Harappan, or the fully modernized city of fame

But before we know what comes, let's all be well prepared because we don't know what it takes to build a civilization from its origins

Be it the rise and fall of kingdoms, or the fall of wealthy riches, all just started with a peculiar problem for which unpreparedness made it worse

We all know how our sins, may have led to fall of civilization, yet did not act due to vain habituation,

so next be it change or pandemics, we are lone players we are lone players to set or world,

free of pandemics through innovation and sustain through tree plantation this is how to protect our civilization

So let us now sustain, though it is late or too late and become the volunteers of protection, and take our hands into action

Let us be confident and speak, humanity will survive, though how problematic be the time,

so this is the beginning of new time

At the stroke of midnight, a new chain of events gets triggered,

as this is an old vain fight to start a new struggle against plight

Let these words mark our renewed, and totally different tools of action, let each holy river speak of itself and chastity of tradition

Mark these words of action, as this is where our hands, come into sway and sing in reunion to make a country free of disasters scheduled to mark corrosion Let my country's pride say, my sons and daughters may, do anything to burn the dirt which has crept to civilization

Stand for the empowerment and create your own employment because empowering your own selves

will power the future country itself.

Every soul has a life to sustain as sustaining is the purpose we all need to achieve as here we come to blame and pick our hands and leave

All we now have is people

who know just the bread they eat rest all gets tough on them so they all begin to retreat

Then comes the life of a soldier ready even to get martyred for the cause of nation for the wicked needs and selfish needs of unfriendly nation

So, to get more than life is to create more than vibes and have a bit empathy

for those who are helpless

& means much more than survival

4. Life

With each chapter life folding on the life of a person goes on the folding chapters in form of people

playing role in shaping future

This can't be takes on you life should move on with more fuel because every atom burns to its potential as the fire in hearts of brave people

Each day should be a potential combustion

because every reaction should be nuclear though the reaction's residue should not flame other's peace and be clear

What we need is ignited as knowledge does work when mind unwinds,

So, let's be brave & reach our potential and move on for dreams to become actual.

A person related to reality can distinguish it from mystery as sometimes the same reality

can be more difficult to identify

Every time you blame and cry realize that you have to defy the reality and distinguish from mystery

and define your name in history

The toughest is to find the character

of real person inside yourself that is the way out to tinker and mine out the potential of self

As each time you stop to think there's an inside eye that in a blink captures faults in others yes! we forget to look inside

This is very much like the tale of tortoise and rabbit the rabbit who was vain the tortoise who ultimately wins

So, to realize about own selves is more than just analyzing,

it is more than innovating and appreciating others

The core concept of life, is to live against time, to create the identity which is immortal entity

Those who live for themselves are many,

but for those who live for others, are found to be merry as they are immortal for others

racing against time may be impossible, but to make use of it is possible the life is fast for some but is more than adequate for some

When living with time, here time seeks definition it is more of a fiend than a friend challenging us with penalty of life

Time should be enough to keep you merry,

the work you do should make you happy otherwise, you run out of life which is where you face penalty of life.

Those who have experienced life on extreme,

their hearts are like flowing streams changing directions as passing hurdles like a stream change due to hurdles

Sometimes, we break the boulders, while some others are complex hurdles this is the life of a sensitive person' whose life becomes sometimes toxic

Some of the extremities are in life's nature

while some are due to incapable nurture the least you can expect from life is that it bears fruit which is ripe

Every time, I looked to be tough and ever since I was advised to be rough'

I realized one thing that is complete and that is, in life, nothing is late

Life has many lessons and conditions, which manages the life's extremities so, let us think of reducing it by dealing it in a way of presenting it.

The messenger of gods, once turned towards the universe they looked at a place to message that place came to be called earth the message had to be provided in a way, that no one could have a dismay, everyone would get it

not knowing, the place forgets it

That messages came to be called dreams

only could be felt in middle of night and disappears when daylight comes so that neither could have god in a fight

Earlier, God took incarnations, to destroy evils, but today are instructions

given to common people who themselves become the deities

Thus, dreams can be categorized to two

the way it performs in mind so that mind unwinds reach potential through daydreams and instructing to prevent evil nightmares

5. The Mistakes

The mistakes of my life, were like an internal strife pushing me to fail and I thought if I was a rusted nail

Not sharp enough to shatter the battle, while all I thought was internal throttle the thing to realize is that mistakes, are what the whole world takes

If you decide to fail yourselves, decide that you have no guts in your

life,

because the mistake in your life, the mistakes never will make me dead will teach you have to fight & bite in which you are included is to make you solve the strife the mistakes never will make me dead

So here starts a notion, of a new genre

like the laws of motion which I would talk about later

The life is full of mistakes, see it for all it takes as when you perceive it, in a good way, a new way will make it the universe is full of imperfections full of holes and stars in interactions, and when they react what is formed

has never been perfect as informed

the world is keen on noticing negative,

as then world turns attractive this world is full of secrets which can be traced only through characters

These are the characters, which make up the cosmic structures

which make up the whole universe and the least we know about new creatures

Thus, is established the relationship *between cosmic powers and

that relies between theories of perfection between cosmic characters and their relationship
